Marilyn's Diary

She's folks!

Being a long-distance swimmer doesn't leave me an awful lot of time to follow the interests of other 18-year-old girls. Still, I don't do very much training in the winter time and it is then that I can get back to a normal teen-ager's life.

One of my big interests, outside of swimming, is music, mostly in the listening line.

I think Perry Como is the finest singer, with Nat Cole running a close second. I like Benny Goodman and I have a big collection of Marilyn Glenn Miller records.

As to my own music abilities, I sang in a glee club at school and made an unfortunate effort to learn piano.

I say unfortunate because I started taking less as shortly before my Lake Ontario swim. Since that time, I haven't had a chance to get back to it and my only claim to piano fame is that I know how to play the first half of Good King Wenceslas. What a repertoire!

I can't stand rock and roll music; I just don't see anything in it.

Like any girl my age, I enjoy parties and like dancing.

I guess my eating tastes are just about as bad as they could be for a swimmer who has to train and watch her weight.

But I have to admit, my favorite dishes are spaghetti and meat balls, Pizza pie, Chinese food and cabbage rolls. The mother of my chum, Maria Brenk, makes the most delicious cabbage rolls in the world.

I don't get as much time as I would like to read, but when I do get a chance, I like to make the most of it by reading something good.

Right now I am reading The Fall of the Titan, by Igor Gouzenko. It's pretty heavy and hard going but I am trying to wade through it. I recently finished reading a really wonderful book, "Love Is Eternal," the story of Abraham Lincoln and his wife.

Cloudbursts Wrack U.K., West Germany

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP)—New cloudbursts and thunderstorms caused devastating floods today in West Germany. Damages to crops and livestock ranged into the millions of dollars.

German police and fire brigades, helped by British, American and Belgian troops, pushed relief operations.

There were no new reports of fatalities. At least 10 people died last Saturday and Sunday when torrential rains swept much of both West and East Germany, causing heavy damage.

Across the English Channel, southern England was drenched by more than an inch of rain in less than four hours. It brought the total for July to 4.86, the highest for the first 29 days of the month since 1875.

Rail lines and roads were flooded, production was retarded in some factories and some families had to quit their homes.

The new floods in Germany ranged over vast sections between the town of Fulda and Edersee, Germany's biggest water reservoir.

FOLLOWS U.S. LEAD

U.K. Cancels Offer To Aid Aswan Dam

LONDON (UP)—Britain followed the United States lead today and withdrew its offer of financial aid for Egypt's Aswan Dam.

A foreign office spokesman announced in London that Britain had "concluded that it is not feasible in the present circumstances to participate in the project."

That was the identical language used by the state department Thursday night in disclosing the withdrawal of the U.S. high dam on the Nile River.

Informal sources said the surprise western move was a calculated risk designed to deflate Egyptian President Gamel Abdel Nasser and put Russia on the spot.

They said it will put a stop to Nasser's game of playing off the United States and Britain against Russia in angling for the best deal. And they suggested that Russia may find itself in an embarrassing situation since there is a question to make good on their vague offer to aid in building the $1.3 billion water project.

But Egyptian government sources in Cairo said that withdrawal of the Western aid offers may boomerang against the United States and Britain.

Instead of forcing Egypt to change its policy of co-operation with Russia, they said, the action is likely to push the Nasser government even closer to the Soviet Union, because Egypt will now have no alternative but to turn to Moscow for help.

Officially, U.S. and British spokesmen emphasized that the Western withdrawal was based on "economic" considerations, including the fact that Egypt has jeopardized its own financial ability to support the project by mortgaging its future cotton crops to pay for Communist arms.

But there was no doubt among diplomats in Washington, London and Cairo that the decision reflected sharp Western dissatisfaction with Egypt's continuing flirtation with the Kremlin.

'Quit NATO Army' Plan Spurned by Campney

Pearkes Rebuffed In Defence Debate

OTTAWA (CP)—Defence Minister Campney today rejected any suggestion that Canada withdraw its forces from Europe in the near future.

He also indicated in the Commons defence debate that there is no prospect of any major reductions in defence spending.

Mr. Campney was referring to a statement Thursday night by Maj.-Gen. G. R. Pearkes, VC, Progressive Conservative military critic, that the government should give serious thought to withdrawing Canadian forces from Europe. Gen. Pearkes also urged cuts in defence spending next year.

The minister said the government is concerned with any changes in East-West relations. But the apparent softening of the Russian attitude could not be evaluated yet.

NATO had built a deterrent and this was the best defence the West could have. It was one thing for a prospective opponent to launch an attack if he knew there was no great defence against him. It was entirely another thing if he knew there would be heavy retaliation.

SUB KILLERS COME HIGH

Cost of destroyer escorts like the HMCS St. Laurent, shown here on trial run, has climbed from $8,000,000 to $23,000,000, Defence Minister Campney has revealed. The program calls for 14 such ships to be built. Two, the Fraser and the Terra Nova, are being built here at Yarrow and Victoria Machinery Depot.

Civic Heads Plan Study of Merger

Mayor Percy Scurrell and the reeves of Greater Victoria today agreed to set up an amalgamation committee.

The group, comprising an appointee by each council, will study the recently completed amalgamation survey conducted in this area.

The city hall meeting resolved that each member of the committee should be a man of "good financial background."

No appointments will be made until the municipal heads discuss the matter with the B.C. government. They will ask a government advisor be named to the committee as a first step.

Mayor Scurrell said the reeves were "amiable and frank" and all felt the amalgamation report (completed for the Chamber of Commerce by Citizen's Research Institute of Canada) should be given prolonged study and a recommendation should finally be made for or against municipal union.

The report, compiled over a period of months at a cost of $5,000 recommends full amalgamation for Greater Victoria.

"But there is no definite plan laid down in the brief," the mayor said.

Reeves A. C. Wurtele of Esquimalt and F. E. Norris of Oak Bay expressed apprehension that amalgamation might mean loss of identity of the smaller municipalities.

For the development of Portage Inlet as a recreational area, the commission has appointed a committee headed by Deputy Lands Minister Edward Bassett.

Marilyn's black dress was described most sensationally ever seen on any film star. With tight-fitting cap and skirt, sleeveless, and midriff of black chiffon, six inches of Monroe torso was visible. Marilyn cracked: "It isn't my idea—but it's my midriff."

BUILDINGS

to take the matter up with the Capital Regional Planning Board.

A member of the commission said he expected full development of the area would cost in the neighborhood of $1,000,000.

One of the main requisites would be construction of a "cut through" between Portage Inlet and Thetis Cove in Esquimalt Harbor. This would establish a new site for small boat businesses where yachts and motor launches could be moored.

Alderman Geoffrey Edgelow said all residents of Greater Victoria should support the development as the area is bounded by all municipalities with the exception of Oak Bay.

"The commission is to be commended on giving consideration to development of the inlet," he said.

ADVISED AGAINST

At a meeting Thursday, the commission was advised against tackling construction of a maritime museum for Greater Victoria as suggested by Esquimalt Council.

The advice came from Maj. Gen. Howard Kennedy, chairman of the Federal District Commission in Ottawa—a planning body similar to the B.C. authority.

"In my opinion this board should not play with a project of this scope," Maj. Gen. Kennedy told the commission. "If you want federal aid, it should be taken up with the historical monuments committee of the Department of Northern Affairs and Resources."

"Construction of all museums should come under the federal department," he said.

Major-General Kennedy told the commission the Federal District commission in Ottawa usually negotiated for land with the owners, and if no satisfactory agreement could be reached, the land was expropriated.

"We have found that decentralization of government buildings is the best answer to long-range planning," he said.

CLOSE TO OFFICE

"We have found that it is best to have government buildings around the periphery of a city. In that way workers do not have to travel so far to their work but can live quite close to their offices."

The two scale models showing suggested plans for development of the precinct at James Bay suggest that the government intends putting up at least 15 more buildings in the area during the next 25 years.

Chairman Pennington said it is likely that members of the commission will visit Ottawa during the next 12 months in order to see how the federal planning body works.

"The federal commission has been operating for 20 or 30 years and being a young organization there is no doubt we can learn something from it," Mr. Pennington said.

He added that the federal commission, which has been in charge of the beautification and development of Ottawa for the past 50 years, might send a horticulturist to Victoria to advise the B.C. commission.

Car Hits Officer, Driver Fined $40

Edwin Crabbe, 2130 Ridge, whose car struck a policeman directing traffic at an intersection, was fined $40 for careless driving in city police court today.

Crabbe said he was waved through the intersection at Broad and Johnson by Const. J. E. Kelly and then took his eyes off the policeman when another car came through.

Const. Kelly was struck by the left front fender of the car. He was not seriously injured and was off duty only four hours as a result of the accident.

Magistrate Henry Hall also ordered Crabbe's licence suspended.

Forty high-stepping youngsters at Reynolds Park are in training for the park's closing exercises in early August. The drill team, organized by playground supervisor Mrs. Muriel Overton, will be headed by four port majorettes.

Official uniform will be a cardboard hat, covered with bright paper and sparkle, white shirt and shorts.

IN PARLIAMENT

Pearkes Heaps Praise on Canada's NATO Force

(From Times News Services)

Maj.-Gen. G. R. Pearkes, VC, Progressive Conservative military critic (Esquimalt-Saanich), Thursday night urged the government to start thinking about withdrawal of Canadian forces from Europe.

He said in the defence debate that the government must reassess its defence policy in the light of changed conditions. The trend seemed to be toward East-West economic war rather than a weapons war.

Gen. Pearkes said he was not suggesting cuts in defence spending this year but the government should come up with reductions next year.

The administration should take another look at its contributions to the North Atlantic alliance. Canada maintains an infantry brigade group and a 12-squadron air division in Europe.

Warns of Over-Insuring Danger

It was essential Canada keep up its defences "but I feel we have got to be quite certain we are not over-insuring."

Gen. Pearkes heaped lavish praise on the 2nd Canadian Infantry Brigade in West Germany. He said it is equal to a division in any other NATO force in Europe.

The general, who visited the brigade just last week, said the German civil authorities are loud in their praise of the conduct of Canadian troops.

The brigade was well trained and in good heart.

"I can't speak in too high terms of the high regard in

Instructors Loaned to Germans

Canada could be proud of the brigade commander, Brig. Roger Rowley of Ottawa, for his excellent work.

Gen. Pearkes said the Brigade is lending instructors to the new German Army. He said that German officers are invited into brigade messes and they discuss mutual problems with Canadian officers.

Gen. Pearkes said he welcomes this evidence that old hatreds are dying out.

The new automatic FN rifle will go into service with the regular army next May, Defence Minister Campney said Thursday night.

He said that the first deliveries of the .300-calibre weapon, which will replace the old Lee-Enfield .303, are expected this fall from the crown-owned Canadian Arsenals Ltd.

A CCF member Thursday called for a halt to formation flying in the RCAF. Owen L. Jones (Okanagan-Boundary), a soldier in both world wars, said tight formation flying is folly because it risks lives.

He referred to an accident in France earlier this year in which four RCAF Sabre jets flying in formation crashed, killing the pilots.

Three opposition members Thursday night called for faster delivery of home-town newspapers to Canadian servicemen in Europe.

Alistair Stewart (CCF, Winnipeg North) said a lack of home

Defence Minister Campney did not reply directly to Gen. Pearkes. He said, in discussing cost of brigade camps in Europe, that the camps ultimately would be returned to Germany "if we should withdraw."

Officials have said there is no present intention of taking any Canadian forces out of Europe.

Gen. Pearkes said other NATO countries are thinking along the lines of defence cuts. The United Kingdom had already achieved "considerable" reductions.

which our troops are held," he said to applause from all sides of the House.

If one paid the price, the best could be obtained. And Canada had paid heavily for the excellent troops in Germany and their excellent facilities. But how long this should be kept up should be a matter for serious government consideration.

The brigade camps were extravagant in extent. Married quarters were spacious. There were German civilian gardeners to look after the spacious lawns. The men in the ranks probably had never lived before in such good quarters.

news was a major complaint he heard on a visit to the Canadian brigade group in Germany last year.

Ellen Fairclough (PC, Hamilton West) and Douglas Harkness (PC, Calgary North) agreed.

Defence Minister Campney said the problem has been studied.

Defence Minister Campney announced Thursday that he has given instructions for preparation of a one-volume history of Canada's part in the First World War.

He said the army historical section has nearly completed the writing of a four-volume history of the Canadian Army in the Second World War. The first volume was published earlier this year. The RCAF has published a three-volume history and the navy a one-volume history.

Blast Rocks CNR Train; 10 Injured

Mystery Explosion Burns Watchers

VAL D'OR, Que. (CP)—Ten persons were seriously burned when an explosion rocked a Canadian National Railway train stopped at the station in Rochebeaucourt, Que., Tuesday night. It was learned Thursday.

Witnesses said a brakeman had just opened the door to one of the cars to discharge freight when the explosion occurred, blasting off the door and ripping a hole in the roof of the car.

Flames shot out of the car burning persons who were watching the unloading operation. Four were taken to hospital.

EVANSBURG, Alta. (CP)—Fourteen cars of a 62-car CNR fast freight piled off the track at a trestle bridge here Friday, halting trans-continental traffic. No one was injured.

The main line between Edmonton and Vancouver was expected to be cleared today. Some passenger trains were re-routed over CPR tracks by way of Calgary.

Trains from Vancouver were held at this stop 61 miles west of Edmonton and passengers were taken to the Alberta capital by bus.

The derailment was believed caused by a "sun kink," a bending of rails resulting when they expand in hot weather and are pushed out of line. The train was eastbound.

The Diesel locomotive and about 35 cars had crossed the scene of the wreck and were on the Magnolia Bridge when the 14 cars jumped the rails. About a half mile of ties and track was torn up. The cars plummeted into a 15-foot ditch, tearing down telegraph poles. The train stopped just a few feet short of dragging the cars onto the bridge and over the edge.

'PREHISTORIC', SAYS PEARKE

Rocky Point Jetty Called Ridiculous

OTTAWA (CP)—The opposition's military critic said Thursday it is ridiculous that naval vessels are unable to dock at a new $234,000 jetty at a navy ammunition magazine on Vancouver Island.

Maj. Gen. G. R. Pearkes, VC (PC-Esquimalt-Saanich) said it is an almost prehistoric situation that all loading and unloading of ammunition at the Rocky Point magazine near Victoria has to be done by lighters.

Defence Minister Campney, replying in the Commons, said he is informed that under certain weather conditions smaller navy vessels can berth there.

"It hasn't been done yet," Gen. Pearkes said.

Mr. Campney agreed that is the situation. Because of engineering problems the jetty was found to be very expensive and was not

Goldstream Gun Range Hazard To Malahat Traffic—Edgelow

A practice shooting range on Goldstream flats, owned by Victoria Fish and Game Protective Association is a hazard to highway traffic, Alderman Geoffrey I. Edgelow told city council Thursday.

He said shooting is sometimes directed toward the Trans-Canada Highway.

"A ricochet could cause an accident," he said.

The alderman was speaking about a letter from the sportsmen's group asking renewal of a lease to club property there.

The group had learned the 784-acre city-owned park is to be taken over by the B.C. government early in 1957.

The VFGPA wanted the city to take steps to make sure its lease is honored after the transfer. The letter was referred to city parks committee for discussion. It was felt by some members public.

The Costly Deal

NATURALLY ENOUGH, THE Conservative Opposition in Parliament is playing furious politics with the new financial deal between the Federal Government and the provinces. Mr. Drew calls it "a cynical butchery of the federal system" and only "another make-shift." But he has suggested no more satisfactory alternative.

The federal system is not threatened with any butchery in the arrangements now being approved by Parliament. On the contrary, if Mr. Drew is alarmed about the freedom of the provincial governments, he should realize that they have been assured a new freedom, and a new financial stability, without which they cannot be free.

They are not compelled to surrender any tax fields to the Federal Government. They can levy any rate of income, corporation and estate taxes they desire. Up to certain figures their levies will be deducted from the taxpayer's payments to Ottawa. Moreover, all the provinces, whether they accept the exemption formula or not, will be guaranteed equalization grants from the federal treasury to provide a basic floor under their public services.

The real question, of course, is how much money the Federal Government can afford to hand over to the provinces, in the form of subsidies and tax exemptions. The present formula will cost the national treasury $653 millions in its first year, or $115 millions more than the existing tax-rental system. These are gigantic figures—more than the whole federal budget before the last war. They must be added to the huge federal commitments on defence and various social services.

Mr. Harris argues that he has gone as far as he dares to help the provinces. Mr. Drew says he has not gone nearly far enough. But Mr. Drew, in urging a more generous policy (which perhaps would be popular with local voters), never bothers to point out that every dollar transferred by the Federal Government to the provinces must be paid by the local taxpayers, all of whom (except a handful in the Yukon and Northwest Territories), live in the provinces.

An Opposition, without responsibility, can be extremely generous with the taxpayers' money when someone else is collecting it. A government, fixing the nation's financial pattern for years ahead, must count its future costs even at the risk of temporary unpopularity.

If Mr. Drew is using the strident language of politics when he calls the new formula a make-shift, it is quite true that no such formula can possibly be permanent, especially in a federal system.

Mr. Harris candidly agrees that governments and men change over the years, and fiscal arrangements must change with them from time to time. All we have achieved at the moment is a five-year policy which doubtless satisfies no province entirely but is acceptable to most of them. And most Canadian taxpayers, we believe, will agree that it is the most expensive deal they can afford when taxes already are taking almost a third of their average income.

Nuisance or Danger on the Water

OAK BAY HAS MOVED against speedboat owners whose activities show a disregard for the safety and enjoyment of citizens on the inshore waters of that municipality. Saanich council has decided to call a meeting of interested Prospect Lake property owners to discuss limiting the power of speedboats there.

These are two instances in which authorities have stepped in to attend to a nuisance that has grown up in the last few years. Unquestionably restrictions will increase elsewhere unless owners of the boats with power engines show a very serious regard for the rights of others on or in the water. That is evident from studies in Ottawa where a parliamentary committee has been considering the licensing of pleasure craft and discussing reckless driving by some of their owners.

It is regrettable that official action has had to be taken. If the use of certain types of speedboats is banned at recreation centres, the pleasure which many people, young and not so young, derive from water skiing and other aquatic sports depending on high-speed motorboats will be eliminated or seriously curtailed.

If such craft create a danger or an intolerable nuisance, then they should be ruled off the water. But there is possibly another answer to the problem they pose. Were owners and their children to conduct themselves in a way to avoid interference with others, then they might expect consideration. They should take that point of view to heart. Oak Bay and Saanich have served fair warning.

Aid, Not Trade

THE AMERICAN CONGRESS IS hurrying toward adjournment and the autumn election in a familiar state of paradox.

On the one hand, it seems likely to vote most of the large foreign aid program, something over four billions, urged by President Eisenhower. On the other, it seems reluctant to assist foreign nations by the increased purchase of their goods.

Aid, not trade, rather than the reverse, dominates the thinking of powerful groups in the Congress and they are backed by lobbies from many powerful industries.

In his long struggle to liberalize the United States' foreign trade policies, the President concentrated, during the present session of the Congress, on two important pieces of legislation. The first would simplify American customs procedures, which at present are often a greater barrier than tariffs to the importation of foreign goods. The second would make the United States a member of the proposed Organization for Trade Co-operation, designed to administer and, if possible, expand the Geneva tariff agreements.

In both these tests the Administration seems unlikely to succeed before the election. The protectionist forces attack the plan to simplify the customs system as certain to encourage imports, which is the best proof of its effectiveness. They say that the Organization for Trade Co-operation would have the power to reduce tariffs, which is quite untrue. And they regard both these measures as the narrow end of a wedge designed to break the walls of protectionist policy, which is true.

It seems probable that when the Congress finishes its last session these vital items of business will be left deliberately unfinished... a serious disappointment to the President and to foreign nations. Perhaps this was to be expected on the eve of an election when politicians are especially sensitive to local pressures. But the President's proposals will be renewed, by him or his successor, when a new Congress meets early next year, with better chances of success.

More Important Than Victory

VANCOUVER'S STAN LEONARD has probably made a greater success of golf than any other British Columbian who has taken up the game. In the years since he first demonstrated his ability, golf has been good to Stan Leonard. It has given him an enjoyable living and a great deal of prestige.

During recent play in Britain he carried Canada's hopes and good wishes. Until its closing phases, he led both Ben Hogan and Sam Snead, two of the greatest competitors of all time, in the Canada Cup matches. Then the Canadian's game collapsed.

His loss after such a promising start was disappointing. But it was a great deal less disappointing to a large number of Canadians that Stan Leonard's display following the event.

He has given tongue to some harsh and unfortunate statements about his treatment over there and has spoken disparagingly of the accommodation provided for himself and his wife.

Neither noted British sports writers nor Brigadier A. C. Critchley, chairman of the recent Canadian Cup matches at Wentworth, find any grounds for such criticism.

Its expression has injured both Canada's reputation for sportsmanship and Stan Leonard. Excellence in golf is one thing. It does not measure up in the wider field, however, to grace in losing. Brigadier Critchley has performed a service in calling Leonard to account for his behaviour. The golf star who started his career in Vancouver should be prompt with his apologies. He can do no less.

Foreign Aid, Or See B.C. First?

Chips

BY DAVID BROCK

IT IS very easy to say that a big company is inhuman. Or a small company. But just you try naming one fault in a company that isn't caused by people. Caused by humans. It is people, people, people, every time. The only thing seriously wrong with any company is the people in it. They exhibit every known human failing. The seven deadly faults of company are the seven deadly sins of people... especially pride, which is the commonest of the seven and the hardest to cure.

I would say that people and companies are just made for each other. People and companies fit each other like a glove. People made companies in their own image. What I hate about incorporation is that it incorporates a whole lot of nobly lumps of humanity into one all-too-human body or corpus known as personnel. Roll out the robots, boys... whom we will call impersonnel. They'll be a big improvement.

THE faults of a company, which are all human faults, can be divided into two classes: (1) the behavior of people as officials, and (2) the behavior of people as slaves. Most people enjoy being either officials or slaves. Many people enjoy being slaves and officials at the same time, and I hope this splits their psyche.

What finer place is there than a big company in which to study human failings? It makes old hard sayings come alive and clear. For example, in a big company, quicker than almost anywhere else, you will find the truth of the French saying that the only honest and harmless creature is a cynic without ambition.

THE ART OF PERSUASION A CANADIAN firm of department stores advertised for a writer of advertising copy. This man or woman had to be under 35. I suppose this is because nobody over 35 is a very persuasive talker or writer. That is why nobody will brief a barrister who is over 35, or read a novelist over 35, or vote for an orator over 35, or believe that Don Juan (prince of ad-men) ever got anywhere once he became smooth and experienced.

Only the young and awkward, it seems, have any hope of being convincing. You can picture to yourself a poor old lawyer of 34, with only one more year to go before juries begin to spurn his advances to their credulity. Anybody who is in the business of being persuasive should be paid on the scale of airline pilots, who have to put something by for a very early retirement. You can still be captain of an airliner long after a copy-writer is turned out to grass or butchered for dogfood.

By the way, the advertisement (presumably written by another copy-writer) said that applicants should have "a ground knowledge of English." Yes, sir, it helps a lot to be able to speak ground English. Myself, I can speak two sorts of ground English... one is a kind of minced or hamburger English, and the other is English as spoken by gophers, etc.

JUST PERFECT, REALLY

AN EDITORIAL in a Canadian newspaper is entitled "Kids Are Fine People." And that statement is just lovely, as far as it goes. But I think it should include grown-ups. People are fine people too. Everybody is fine people. And why not? If you can say you like all dogs or all horses, why can't you say you like all people?

There is something very wonderful about people. People are not the sort of thing you run across every day. Oh dear, no. People are rare. We get them only in dribs and drabs, except when coming out of a stadium or at Coney Island. Before I die, I hope to see a monstrous convention of the entire human race... two or three billion people all standing in one solid lump. Just imagine a stadium that would hold two or three billion people. They could really get to know and like each other.

THERE is only one little thing that bothers me about the theory that most people are pretty fine. Every time any human being does one tiny deed that is even halfway up to a minimum standard of common decency, people get as surprised as anything and throw up their hands in wonder and say "My, my, well, well, fancy that... he did a decent act, can you beat it? Most people are pretty decent, you'll find. Yes, most people are pretty swell fellows." If people are as good as all that, then why is everyone astounded by a half-decent little gesture? If people were really swell, we would take decency for granted.

ANY NUMBER CAN PLAY

CHILDREN use the word "deal" in a wider and wider sense, not only to mean a situation or a set-up, but to mean a type, a category, or a plain thing. And when I say children, I include many fully-paid-up adults. A bandleader was telling me the other day that one of his musicians said "Hey, I don't understand this first little deal in the third bar deal." But it was a child of a younger age than a professional musician who told me she couldn't sleep because up on her ceiling there was "a big hairy moth deal."

TV's Political Test

BY JOSEPH AND STEWART ALSOP from Washington

IS TELEVISION a new and revolutionary political instrument, destined to change radically and forever the style of the American political campaign? Or is it just another medium, among many, for reaching the voters?

The coming election ought to give a fair idea of the answers to these questions, simply because the Republican campaign strategists are proceeding in the first assumption, and the Democrats on the second.

The Republican campaign will be pitched directly at the viewers of the nation's 40 million television sets. The pitch will start in earnest at the Republican convention in San Francisco. Republican Chairman Len Hall and Campaign Director Robert Humphreys have recruited Hollywood actor George Murphy to direct the convention, much as a Hollywood director directs a motion picture.

Murphy's problem is more complicated, of course. His main object is to keep the television viewers glued to their sets, despite a total lack of suspense about the outcome, right up to the grand climax of the President's acceptance speech. To that end, he hopes to treat the television viewers to an orderly and entertaining spectacle, rather than a continuing mob scene.

Attendance Bait

But convention delegates, though sheep-like in other respects, are not subject to orders as movie extras. No convention in history, for example, has ever started on schedule. Murphy plans to deal with this problem by recruiting the most attractive Hollywood attractions—if not Marilyn Monroe the next best thing—to appear on the platform at ten in the morning. With the beary-eyed delegates thus lured by beauty from their beds, the gavel will bang before a full house at eleven. And the show will get under way.

If the Hall-Humphreys-Murphy plans work out, the convention will be just that—a show, and a good one. There will be plenty of professionally acted plays and pageants, naturally extolling all things Republican, to carry the television viewers through the dull spots. And there will be an absolute minimum of long-winded speeches.

According to present plans, the main speakers will be former President Herbert Hoover and Thomas E. Dewey. But Hoover, Dewey and other speakers will be urged to keep their speeches to a maximum of twenty-five minutes—hardly a warm-up for the traditional convention speech, and large numbers of would-be orators—like George Bender, hard-pressed Ohio Senator—are being politely but sternly discouraged.

Dramatized Party Platform

Other still tentative convention plans included a televised dramatization of the Republican platform, with Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, for example, briefly summarizing the foreign policy plank and speaking more or less off the cuff on "what Eisenhower foreign policy means for our future." The whole show, of course, will be a build-up for the climactic moment, the President's acceptance speech. The climax may be delayed to Thursday, Aug. 23, instead of Wednesday as originally planned, in order both to appease the San Francisco merchants and allow more time for the build-up.

The campaign to follow will be aimed equally squarely at the voter with a television set. More than $2 million in television time has already been contracted for, through the advertising firm of Barton, Barton, Durstine, and Osborne. The time will be divided between 35 "five-minute" spots on major shows and ten full half-hour periods on national hook-ups.

The President himself is expected to appear on only five or six of the half hour shows, although this number may well be upped in the heat of the campaign. The other periods will be devoted to what Chairman Hall likes to call "productions," rather than speeches—perhaps a serial report by cabinet members, perhaps a cabinet meeting, shows like last winter's successful "Salute To Eisenhower," and so on. Closed circuit television will also be used, so that the President can "say a few words" to Republican get-togethers about the country.

Democrats Scoff

As these plans suggest, Chairman Hall and the other Republican strategists are convinced that a dramatized modern merchandising method married to television have basically altered traditional political techniques. The Democrats scoff at this theory, perhaps because they simply don't have the money to pay for the Republicans kind of television campaign. Only the traditional whistle stopping, the Democrats claim, can lend a campaign the needed color, movement and vigor. The election in November should provide some interesting clues on whether, as the Republican strategists believe, we are in the midst of an "electronic revolution in politics." (1956, N.Y. ## As Our Readers See It

Thanks a Million

On behalf of my family and myself, I would like to thank everyone who helped in my rescue at Elk Lake last Sunday evening. I will surely help others in return whenever I can.

We also appreciate the phone calls and kind enquiries from so many people, and the press.

Thanks a million, everyone!

Home-Style Crew Cut

It is encouraging to note the general protest against the barbers' latest bandy. However, this union's greed may well prove a blessing in disguise.

During this hot weather, nothing could be more refreshing than a self-inflicted crew cut (or even a friendly crude one), besides saving money, time and tempers. There is no reason why such a boycott should not quickly bring this union to its senses.

As a matter of fact the time is long overdue for a mass protest against price fixing and general inflation. The old Fascist cry of "Communist-inspired," raised so successfully since the last war to quell protests, has now lost its punch and should scare no one.

Thinking of Pensioners

I have been a reader of your Times for over fifty years and have never troubled you much with writing to you. But now, sir, after reading the article on the front page about the canneries' 20 cents offer being rejected by the fishermen—that is the fresh fish and cold storage workers—it simply boils me up, and I know there will be lots of other people in B.C. who feel the same way about it.

These workers—who rejected the offer of a 20 cents increase—are already getting lots of pay to live comfortably on and I do think they are very greedy and selfish to ask for more pay at this time when the cost of living is so high. As a pensioner (and my pension cheque is all I have to exist on), I do think that the fishermen and all other branches of labor are very selfish and that they do not consider their less fortunate fellowmen—the old pensioners—both old age and war veteran pensioners—who have built up and fought for the best interests of this country. The present generation is polluted by people who fought against us (the people of Canada) in the last wars, and who were permitted to enter our country and enjoy its blessings, and amongst whom are many with communist leanings and furthermore amongst whom are those who should be at once shipped back to their country of origin.
OLD BILL.

The Other Side

As you are aware religion will be much in the news in Victoria in the next three months. The August provincial conference of Jehovah's Witnesses is to be followed by mass meetings organized by all the major Protestant churches. Hence it seems appropriate to draw attention to the BBC's recent pamphlet, "Religion on the Air."

Mrs. Margaret Knight, author of "Morals Without Religion," commented on this pamphlet in the New Statesman and Nation and later replied to one of her critics (in part) as follows: "Scientific humanists do not deal in dogmas; all that they want is the right of free discussion."

At present, the most powerful instrument of mass indoctrination that has ever existed—sound and television broadcasting—has been mobilized in the service of Christianity. Day in and day out, it employs skilled propaganda techniques to induce people to continue paying lip service to doctrines that, for the most part, they have ceased to believe. Scientific Humanism offers a constructive alternative to these discarded beliefs, and to the sanction derived from them; but it is seldom allowed to state its case on the air. It is perhaps a crude question, but if Christians are so sure they are right, why are they so afraid to allow their opponents a hearing?

In the last issue of Maclean's magazine there is a report of a panel discussion on "How should we bring up our next child?" In the paragraph headed, "What about religious training?" Mrs. Frayne (better known as Jane Callwood), remarks: "Jill, our eldest, is also the churchgoer of the family. We are not—and we are concerned about raising our children in a Christian religion because of its intolerance toward other religions."

Consulting Witches

Rationalist's letter of July 16 demands scriptural proof that "God implanted within man the urge to worship which was to be expressed solely towards his Maker," and for obvious reasons connects this with witches.

That the Creator implanted this urge is self-evident. How otherwise should Cain (the first recorded murderer) and countless other worshippers almost automatically worship the Creator before there were priests and religious buildings?

Christ Jesus quoted, "For it is written, 'It is Jehovah your God you must worship and it is to him alone you must render sacred service.'" (Matt. 4.10). "God is looking for such worshippers." (John 4.24).

This self-evident truth is supported by numberless examples such as Psalms 95 and 113; Romans 1:18-20. Romans 4:11. "To him alone you must render sacred service," was a necessary command. Isa. 8:19-21 gives one reason. "And when men say to you, consult the ghosts and spirits that chirp and gibber," etc., etc.

Many people today do believe in witches, who now are called "mediums." John R. Saunders, Associate Curator of Education at the American Museum of Natural History, said, "In Washington, D.C., 10,000 customers weekly consult astrologers... they patronize fortune tellers of one kind or another." (The American Weekly, July 21-46).

My Hunk of the Strait

LIKE a lot of other people, I've never been completely convinced that Mr. Apostolos Valerianos, who came originally from Greece and is better known under his assumed name, Juan de Fuca, actually discovered the strait that honors him. That was back in 1592.

And you can count me among those who believe Sir Francis Drake didn't in 1579, when he reportedly reached the 48th parallel in the North Pacific. I'm sorry that James Cook missed it in 1778, and I think it was gracious of Captain Charles William Barkley to credit discovery to Juan de Fuca when he sailed into this neck of water in July, 1877.

If you talked to Cliff Carl or Reg Kelly, they'd probably point out very diplomatically that "discovery" isn't quite the right word. They'd remind you that humans conceivably came on the scene shortly after the ice-bridge to the mainland went out, and Reg would possibly suggest that even the seafaring Haida's, sweeping south in their war canoes, were beaten to the location by other people.

The origins of human associations with the Strait are lost in what somebody has called "stinking fogges."

THANKFUL

But laying history aside, I'm extremely happy that somebody did stumble on this section of the continent and that James Douglas thought it would be a good place to establish his headquarters. I'm even more pleased that the Douglas idea burgeoned and that I have the privilege of living beside the Strait now—this week in particular.

Obviously lacking in ambition, I have no desire to swim the Strait—not even for big money. I'm strictly a puddle-around-the-edges. But this is the time for puddling, and I've been at it summertime for years.

When we were kids in long cotton bathing suits that were short cotton bathing suits, like Gunga Din's uniform, the next season, we used to dive from a big boulder in my hunk of the Strait for clamshells. It was a wonderful pastime. The bright green water would close over you, icy and clear. You'd stroke erratically over the bottom seeing how many shells you could gather and you'd come to the surface with your lungs almost bursting.

Age and cigarettes have removed the wind I used to use on those expeditions, but when the mercury starts to climb I still like my plunge. It's my method of testing my heart for those diseases you hear so much about these days.

It's still frigid and it's still wonderful for a dive and swim up to 30 feet. And it makes the cold shower seem cozy after it.

When I was a kid, the Strait used to deliver our lumber and fuel. It still does. But the service isn't so good and the standards are low—which is natural, I guess, with progress.

Yet, even if the Strait served no utilitarian purpose, it would still be one of my great joys. You can sit beside it and find serenity in the mountains across the way in Washington. You can fish on it and even if you catch nothing, there's a cathedral calm out there on a quiet day.

On those few evenings when a man can lounge outdoors in his shirt-sleeves without catching pneumonia, a place by the Strait is as refreshingly cool as the ferns beside a woodland creek.

A SORT OF POETRY

There's a sort of poetry about the Strait, fortunately not committed to the limitations of words. It's a liquid avenue of dreams.

You can think of Masfield's cargoes—the quinquennium of Nineveh with a cargo of ivory, the dirty British freighter with its cheap tin trays—as you watch the traffic out there. Stately cruise ships move through, blowing for their pilots off the Dallas road. Puffing tugs, their afterdecks almost at the waterline, drag their work-a-day scows along. Occasionally—and it's becoming more frequent—you'll see the squat little craft slowly pulling log booms to the mills.

You see the purposeful rush of CPR steamers, almost arrogantly plowing up the water on their familiar runs. You catch the lift of sail as a yacht idles past, the hum of a cruiser with its well-oiled engines turning precisely.

The cough of an outboard breaks the low symphony of the waters. Kids on a raft, late paddling before bedtime, shout near the shore.

The mountains change color and fade. An early star comes out. The moon rises over the hill to silver water and rocks, and a big blue heron coasts down out of the north sky to roost by the kelp beds.

The evening cool is a benediction. You feel a debt to someone for the privilege of being there. Maybe it wasn't Juan de Fuca, but that's a nice, euphonious name to chant your thanks to. And doubtful as many of us are, he could have been the first European on the scene.

YOUR HEALTH

Ruptured Small Blood Vessels

Dr. Alvarez is Emeritus Consultant to Medicine, Mayo Clinic and Emeritus Professor of Medicine Mayo Foundation.

Many persons ask me what to do about a black and blue mark which appears on the body, apparently without any preliminary injury or bump. I cannot say because I don't know what the cause is in the particular individual. Even if I could examine the person carefully I might not know. If I could examine, I would check first to make sure that the blood was normal and that there was no blood disease, such as could produce small hemorrhages. I would ask the person if he or she had ever had a tendency to bleed badly after a cut or after the removal of a tooth.

I might want to know if the person was living on some crazy diet without fruit juices, salads, or fruits. I would ask this because a lack of vitamin C tends to make the blood vessels more friable.

In many of these cases it may well be that the small blood vessels of the body can rupture easily. Just why they do is not always clear. One might check the blood pressure to see if it is very high. Rarely, in cases of very high blood pressure, there are little hemorrhages in various parts of the body. All of us have seen the persons who wake with a blood-shot eye. I remember a physician friend who had the worst hemorrhages all over under his skin that I have ever seen. After several years of this, he had a mouthful of bad teeth cleaned out, and after this he had no more big black-and-blue spots.

BETTER NOT BE CRABBED

The other day I heard a wise physician make a statement which I think is true. He said that when a young person gets the habit of being crabbed it is bad enough; but the person should remember if he is crabbed when he is young, when he is old he is going to be so crabbed that no one will want to come near him. He will be a terribly lonely old man.

It would be wonderful if more of us human beings, when we are young, were to stop occasionally and say to ourselves, "Here we are, developing a bad habit of irritability or grouching or bad temper." Such a habit is almost certain to grow and grow. As a result, the man may lose the love of his wife and children, and the respect of his friends and business associates. In the end he will wind up a lonely and miserable old person.

Many elderly persons complain that they are avoided and left alone, and they blame this on their age, when they should be blaming it on their inability to be pleasant or interesting, or to take an intelligent part in a conversation. All they can talk about are their troubles, their annoyances, their aches and pains, the neglect of their children and the recent fight they had with someone!

Who wants to listen to that tale of woe, especially when he has already heard it several times?

Every so often I feel the need of shocking a neurotic young woman and bringing her up short. I say to her, "Thus far you have made a mess of your life. According to the Good Book, you have another 40 years to live. Do you want these 40 years to be as much of a mess as the first 30?" Usually she says, "Oh, no, no! I couldn't face such a thing. That would be horrible." And then I say, "All right, then, you better pull yourself together and start learning to be the sort of woman you would like to be."

A NOTE ON HEREDITY

Because I am always observing how certain peculiarities of mind and body show up again and again in members of the families whom I have long taken care of as patients, I was interested in the statement of a man who tells me that once, when his baby was ill, the doctor found a molar tooth coming out of the back part of the upper jaw. This was the first tooth to appear. As all parents know, the first teeth to be cut are two in the centre, in front. All of the physicians who heard about the child who cut his back teeth first were astounded. They had never heard of such a thing. But, as the father said, "I wasn't surprised because I cut my back teeth first. I intended to tell my wife to watch the children for this, but I forgot to!"

'SUNDAY SPORT OUT' PREMIER TELLS HUME

Premier Bennett told Vancouver Mayor Fred Hume Thursday he is "wholeheartedly opposed to commercialized Sunday sport."

"I told him what I've already told the press," said the premier after a conference with the mayor. "My argument is that once you do this you are paving the way for other things such as Sunday movies."

"I told the mayor I would do all in my power to protect our Sundays, but I could not dictate—I could only lead."

Mr. Bennett would not discuss the mayor's reply.

"You must get that from him," he said.

HOME GARDEN

By HILDA BEASTALL

Special Plant Care Needed in Hot Spell

Far from neglecting the garden when the mercury rises around the 80s, as in the past few days, there are many little things one can do to help our plants come through the heat in good condition.

Most of them have to do with water, as you may have guessed. Some plants will show immediate improvement if water is sprayed over their foliage on hot days. Those which require partial or dappled tree shade for growing, azaleas, rhododendrons and tuberous begonias are examples, will love a spray in addition to root soaking.

Fall flowering perennials such as Michaelmas daisy, helenium and physostegia (false dragon's head), and the early spring blooming kinds, polyanthus, doreenium and pyrethrum should all be watered liberally in hot weather. They do their best in the cool coastal climate, and as soon as our temperature rises to the 80s they need added water to maintain their equilibrium.

Among the pot plants outdoors, fuchsia and hydrangea will need copious watering. Chrysanthemums in pots for flowering may need three daily attention. Indoors, plants in pots, except the spiniest of the cacti, should be removed from sunny windows, and stood where they do not receive reflected heat from the glass.

Park Zoo Gets Nod

Permission Will Be Asked

City council, after some debate, agreed Thursday to a parks committee recommendation and will ask the provincial government to permit operation of a children's zoo in Beacon Hill Park as a commercial venture.

When the park was turned over to the city it was on understanding no commercialism would be permitted.

OFFER MADE

Recently M. H. King of King Realty offered to donate materials, birds and animals for a children's zoo of domestic animals if the city would maintain it. Investigation showed it could be operated at no cost to the city if a 10-cent or 15-cent charge were made.

However, some council members felt such a zoo would not be necessary here. Both Ald. Geoff Edgewood and Ald. Mrs. Wilson expressed opposition. "A wild animal zoo, yes. A domestic animal zoo, no. . . any youngster with a bike can go to the country and see farm animals near Victoria."

Czechoslovakia Okays State-Run Gambling

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia (CP) The government has agreed to reopen by October at the latest a state-run betting agency which was abolished at the end of 1952. It was announced here. ## EX-PREMIERS INVITED ON EXTENDED PGE RUN

Former B.C. premiers Byron Johnson and John Hart have been invited to ride on the first passenger train to run over the new Pacific Great Eastern railway extension from Vancouver to Prince George on Aug. 27. Premier Bennett said Thursday.

He added that Herbert Anscomb, co-leader with Mr. Hart of the Coalition government, had also been invited with H. G. T. Perry, "who fought long and hard for the development of this railroad."

During their summer camp at Glyn Camp, Sidney, the Third Victoria and Chinese Troops went for a trip on a navy boat in Saanich Inlet. During the trip they had the never-to-be-forgotten sight of seeing killer whales attacking a sperm whale, the big fellow breaking water 10 to 12 feet in the air.

As soon as he hit water, the killers would move in and attack. During their camp the boys made a trip to Mt. Newton and saw the Thunderbird Cave. One of the stunts during the camp was "backwoods" cooking. Each boy cooked his lunch of meat, potatoes and a twist without any utensils.

QUALICUM BEACH: WOLF Cubes of the Qualicum Beach and Parksville Packs enjoyed a five-day holiday camp at Seaview Auto Camp, through the kindness of Mr. and Mrs. McFeely. Training tests and swimming were to the fore, and treasure hunts and a stunt with mobile transmitters were carried out. Constable Brasnett, RCMP.

OUT OUR WAY

Andy sends a complete, 15-volume set of Compton's Pictured Encyclopedia to Ann Tildebrandt, age 10, of Charleston, W.Va., for her question:

Why are the days, weeks and months so mixed up?

Certain tidy people have plans for streamlining our sloppy calendar. A year of 361 days divides neatly into 52 weeks. The 52 weeks divide exactly into 13 months of four weeks each. Each year and month would begin with Sunday and end with Saturday. If you were born on Jan. 2, your birthday would always fall on a Monday. The switch to this calendar would cause a lot of upset. So the tidy people have a less extreme suggestion.

There are 364 days in plan two. But the 52 weeks are divided into 12 irregular months. They are divided into equal quarter-years of 13 weeks each. Each year and quarter year starts Sunday and ends on Saturday. There would be fewer changes in the switch-over to this plan and no extra month to add. Either plan one or plan two would save hours of accounting and other chores in the business world.

The real year, of course, is longer than 365 days. Our calendar keeps abreast of things with 365 days in a year and an extra day in leap year. The planners have taken care of that too. They suggest an extra day before every Jan. 1. To keep the business records straight it would be a non-working day. Let's call it World Play Day. Leap year day would be fitted in after the last day of June, also a non-working day.

Our calendar was started long ago to record the passing of the days, the months and the years. A calendar day is from midnight to midnight. The year is from midwinter to midwinter. The months were meant to tally with the four phases of the moon; the weeks were roughly quarter-months.

BOARDING HOUSE

AROUND HOME

PENN Y

DR. GUY BENNETT

my side of the story

A continuing series
BY THE DUCHESS OF WINDSOR

A sense of helplessness of unimaginable scope came over me.

The French telephone system thwarted me; everything that I wanted to say, that I had to say, and everything that David was trying to tell me was lost or distorted into a howl of subhuman squeals and squawks.

I now realized the merit of Perry Brownlow's advice in urging me to go to Belton (Lord Brownlow's country house in Lincolnshire); there David and I could at least have made ourselves understood to each other.

I had the feeling of sinking in quicksand, and the futility of my situation was made all the more excruciating by the reports that Perry was receiving from London and the correspondents hovering around Lou Vlei (the Riviera home of Mr. Herman Rogers in which she was staying). Despite David's reassurances, it was becoming tragically clear that the balance was tipping towards abdication. Perry was in despair. As gently as he could he conveyed to me his realization of how deep was the breach that was opening up between the King and his subjects, both in the United Kingdom and in the Dominions.

DIFFICULT DECISION

"As I see it now," he said, "there is only one possible way of stopping this dreadful rift. It is for you publicly to renounce the King."

Ever since that awful last day at the Fort, much the same idea had been taking shape in my mind; I must wrench myself entirely out of David's life. I would have to give him up, and in a way that would leave him no choice but to accept the decision. However I put the matter, he would be hurt. It would be difficult, if not impossible, to make him understand.

But I had no alternative. Apart from the moral considerations affecting his kingly position, my own self-respect was at stake.

But I knew that more than a public disavowal on my part would be needed to restrain David. He would at once suspect that my course was dictated by exhaustion and outside pressures. He would refuse to believe that I would voluntarily desert him.

I would have to count on David's solitude for me. No good would be served by my trying to appeal to his sense of duty.

He would tell me, as on countless occasions before, that duty was a complex and subtle compulsion, presenting many different paths; and that a man, in his choice of paths, must differentiate between the mere form of duty and its inner substance.

No, my only hope was to make him realize that the price of marriage would not be just the forfeiture of the Throne. The final cost would include as well the destruction of my reputation and my own self-respect, without which I could not face the world.

Perry and Herman helped me prepare a statement to be issued to the Press. It was purposely short: "Mrs. Simpson throughout the last few weeks has invariably wished to avoid any action or proposal which would hurt or damage His Majesty or the Throne. Today her attitude is unchanged, and she is willing, if such action would solve the problem, to withdraw forthwith from a situation that has been rendered both unhappy and untenable."

Perry doubted that the language was sufficiently strong. He wanted a forthright declaration that I had no thought of marrying the King.

Access Roads To Good Timber Asked at Probe

If any further forest management licences are issued, it will mean "cutting out the small operator" and several established logging companies will have to close down, the Sloan Royal Commission on forestry was told Thursday.

Ronald Howard, counsel for the Western Forest Management Association, said these companies might find it "difficult if not impossible" to reorganize elsewhere in the province.

"We don't want protection of any kind—we just want a chance to compete," Mr. Howard declared.

He quoted timber magnate H. R. MacMillan as saying that management licences would ultimately be controlled by "just a few people."

"I think he is very wise," Mr. Howard said.

ROADS NEEDED

He mentioned the lack of access roads to forest areas throughout the B.C. mainland and the northern areas of Vancouver Island.

"We have no access roads to the larger uncut areas of timber in B.C. at the present time," Mr. Howard declared, "and their absence makes it virtually impossible for any operator to set up operations in the areas concerned."

He said only the most up-to-date logging barges could possibly "take out" lumber on "several of the richest stands we have," bordering the southern tip of Queen Charlotte Sound.

"The expense involved in acquiring such equipment puts the small operator right out of the picture," Mr. Howard declared.

Tee Topics

By BILL WALKER

It's Bob Kidd of Vancouver's Marine Drive against the field in the B.C. Closed championships at Capilano.

But whatever he does, Kidd is virtually assured of a spot on the Willingdon Cup team because of his fine triumph over Seattle's Erv Parent in the PPGA tourney at Marine last week.

Victoria will be represented with no less than a dozen or so entries from the Island, majority from local clubs.

Gorge Vale and Royal Colwood have supplied the cream of the crop.

Bob Fleming and city champ Norm Boden will carry the Gorge banner, while Colwood has a strong threesome in defending B.C. titlist Bill McColl, Island match-play champion Laurie Kerr, and runner-up Vince Clarkson.

Gordon Whan and Clayton Wright will uphold the honor of Cowichan Club.

Others entered include George Briscoe, Jack Galbraith, Roger Ross and Cliff Horwood.

The tourney is over 54 holes, 36 on Saturday and 18 on Sunday.

Willingdon Cup team is expected to be named Sunday at the conclusion of the event.

Meanwhile, things locally are on the quiet side because of the current heat wave. Only Uplands reports continued heavy play with the course in better summer condition this year than it has been in some time.

But mostly the trend is to the beaches and away from the courses.

Gorge Vale has scheduled the start of the club handicap championship this Sunday while finals of the Feesey Cup competition will be the vogue at Uplands.

Betsy Rawls is proof of what determination can do, and serves as today's object lesson.

In 1945 Betsy didn't know the 19th hole from the first tee; yet, six years later she won her first U.S. National Open championship, and the next year, 1952, her first full season as a professional, she was golf's leading money winner on the distaff side.

As suggested here last week, Stan Leonard of Vancouver and Lachute, Que., was due for a reprimand from powers-that-be in England for his unkind remarks concerning his treatment in the British Open.

Brigadier Critchley, chairman of the Canada Cup matches, did just that yesterday, calling Leonard bad-mannered and guilty of poor sportsmanship.

Funny thing, to us, was that Leonard never mentioned his $5,000 honorarium for his Canada Cup appearance when he made his pitch.

Too, he had his wife's expenses paid for.

Leonard has been one of Canada's most famous golf names, but the lustre has dimmed now because of his remarks. He undoubtedly knew the onus was on him to secure his own accommodation for the Open as that has been policy in Britain for years. He has no one to blame but himself and should apologize immediately.

For, until he does, he has struck an almost irreparable blow to Canadian golf from the English viewpoint and future Canadian competitors will be faced with the unenviable task of living him down.

BUNKER BLASTS—Tab Gordon McKenzie, who enjoyed much success in U.S. tourneys this year, as a good bet for the B.C. Cup team... Bob Fleming is the Island's top hope and, if Bill McColl can repeat his title victory of last year, it could conceivably give the Island two places. On that score, a few years ago, Bob Morrison and Fleming made the rep team, which helps answer a query.

Feesey Cup Golf Draw

Draw for the finals of the Feesey Cup competition at Uplands Golf Club Sunday follows:

3.00—Championship: D. F. Anderson vs. G. Briscoe
 3.05—First Flight: B. Evans vs. W. Kempston
 3.10—Second Flight: C. J. Robertson vs. J. Hunt

 3.20—Fourth Flight: S. Walton vs. E. Bellas

Colwood Golf

Mrs. H. E. Vale won the Challenge Cup in competition at the Colwood Golf Club Thursday.

In the par competition, Mrs. M. E. Smith won the silver division 3 up, while Mrs. L. G. d'Easum took the bronze division honors 4 up.

B.C.'s BEST FOR THIRD TIME

A remarkable record is owned by the Cordova Bay boys' bantam softball club, which during the past three seasons has won three B.C. titles and lost but one game in that period. Left to right, back row: M. Etter, R. Weir, G. Johnston, K. Liddiard, R.

Doney; front row: W. Johnston (coach), R. Sutton, B. Evans, M. Carnochan, B. Lewis, B. Butler and J. Roberts (trainer). Absent: J. Tribe, D. Tribe, L. Amos, C. Granewall.

Yarrows Dodgers downed Pirates, 14-3, at Bullen Park to give them their second consecutive Esquimalt-Victoria World Little League championship at Denny Morris and John Yankoski combined to pitch a three-hitter.

Ed Gets 10th Victory, Bernie's Homer Helps

Big Ed Foychuk managed his 10th straight win in Senior "A" softball at Central Park on Thursday, but for a time the issue was much in doubt.

Foychuk, pitching for Gorge Hotel, finally demolished Chinese Students, 6-4, but the Students got to him for 12 hits and left 14 runners on base before bowing out before a large "Fan Appreciation Night" crowd.

Hotelmen managed only seven hits off Students' Dave Price, but five errors allowed them to score two runs in both the first and third innings. Bernie Clarkson's two-run homer accounted for the other tallies in the sixth frame.

Melrose Service downed Firefighters, 8-7, in Senior B softball at Heywood Park as Ian Holroyd hit a three-run homer.

Bays Rub Salt Deep; Use Six Players, Win

Foul Bay, adding insult to injury at Stevenson Park Thursday night, showed up with only six players, the absolute minimum, to whom Jokers, 15-2, in a senior B lacrosse league game.

It was Foul Bay's final league game of the season, giving them a total of 13 wins against one loss.

Walt Harris and Art Green led the winners with six and five goals, respectively, while George Kelly scored twice and Ken Barnes and Jack Reid once each.

Roy Lawrence and Len Scott scored for Jokers, who only had nine shots at Foul Bay goalie Wayne Henderson.

In a bantam division game at Stevenson Park Thursday Murray Southern's four goals led Victoria City to a 5-3 victory over Oak Bay.

Grid Tactics Taboo in PCL

The four mainland clubs in the Coast Soccer League, now that former secretary-manager Jock Hendry is safely out of the way, will once again try to chop Victoria United from the loop.

Representatives of the four clubs, St. Andrews, Halcross, North Shore Aircons and New Westminster Royals, got together Thursday and tried to force the league executive to call a meeting to discuss a change in game guarantees.

Hendry, who was instrumental in getting Victoria in the league and keeping it there against the wishes of the mainland clubs, resigned Wednesday morning.

President Bob Paton refused to call a meeting without Victoria present, however, and set a meeting of the league for Monday night. Paton phoned George Eade, president of the United this morning, informing him of the impending meeting and Eade will be present.

The clubs are expected to renew demands made earlier in the season that Victoria post a flat guarantee for visiting clubs in exchange for being allowed to remain in the league.

A reported guarantee of $225 will be asked.

At any rate, Halcross is expected to be on hand at Athletic Park tonight to meet United in a scheduled league game, starting at 8:15.

Grid Tactics Taboo in PCL

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—President Leslie O'Connor of the Pacific Coast Baseball League warned players Thursday to leave football to the grid.

In a bulletin to umpires and managers, O'Connor said "throwing a football block" in an attempt to break up a double play or to interfere with a field is taboo.

He said any such blocks in the Coast League will henceforth result in the umpire calling the batter advancing to first base automatically out.

Bobby Woods 'Sees' Again

BILLINGS, Mont. (AP)—Bobby Woods, 21-year-old ring veteran from Spokane, could see again Thursday, but whether delicate surgery performed on the retina of his right eye will be a complete success will not be known for at least a week.

His surgeon said it "looks encouraging but we will not know whether the retina will stay in place until Woods is able to move around."

Joe Almost Match For Five Redlegs

Adcock Continues Terrific Pace

By The Associated Press

Cincinnati Redlegs, for all their power hitters, are two games behind National League leading Milwaukee and one big reason is Joe Adcock—the one-man gang Cincy traded away to the Braves.

Figure it from last week's all-star game, Cincinnati's fabulous five—Wally Post and all-stars Gus Bell, Frank Robinson, Ted Kluszewski and Ed Bailey—have hit nine home runs and driven in 26 runs among them, while the Reds have lost four of nine and blown a 1 1/2-game lead.

Adcock, the 28-year-old first baseman overlooked when the NL all-stars were selected, has done almost as well all by himself. He's walloped seven homers and driven in 21 runs, while the Braves have won nine of 10. The only game Milwaukee lost was Tuesday night's battle with New York, which Adcock sat out after his run-in with Ruben Gomez.

Adcock, who went to the Braves in a complicated seven-man, four-club swap in 1953, warmed up Thursday as Milwaukee clobbered the Giants 13-3. He socked his 18th and 19th home runs, one a grand-slammer, a double and a single to become the first to drive home eight runs in one game this season in the majors.

Cincinnati managed to keep pace by beating third-place Brooklyn 7-2, as Bell unloaded his 18th homer with a man on. Chicago Cubs, with three homers, beat Philadelphia 4-3 in 10 innings on Dee Fondy's fifth home run of the year in the only other game scheduled.

REPORT FROM THE OUTDOORS

The success of the Solarium derby being assured—because any cause in which the Solarium children benefit, is undoubtedly a success—all now that remains is for the fish to make their contribution in Saanich Inlet Sunday.

That's the date of the annual Anglers-Times Solarium Salmon Derby, as everyone should know by now.

And there are fish in the inlet, it appears, but mostly they are on the small side.

For example, Hall Boathouse reports good results over last weekend, but since then, because few boats have been out, it is virtually impossible to judge the fishing correctly.

At the Anchorage end of the inlet, it's the same story. The fish are small, but apparently plentiful if you can find the right spot. In this regard, Deep Cove has been producing as well as any other spot, with fair catches reported from Coal Bay. Misery Bay is still the key spot at Hall's end.

Doc Clarke, who knows the inlet and its habits as well as anyone, says anything could win the derby Sunday because the outlook—full moon and low tide— isn't conducive to big catches.

And so you have it—with about 40 prizes in the Solarium grab bag, don't be discouraged with a seven pounder, it likely will get you an award, and that puts everyone even at the start.

Meanwhile, French Creek is "streaky" with the fish there one day, and not the next. The best day by far occurred recently when 49 boats produced 259 fish.

Dunc Turner of Qualicum says plugs and small spoons are better than bucktails at this time of the season, and cautions up-island visitors about being overly optimistic. "It's not that good yet, he commented.

Springs are showing at Cowichan Bay, club president Tom Merrick recently outlasting Hal Denton of CBUT. . . Mrs. A. S. Playt of Bell, California, tied off the Campbell River season with a 57½-pound specimen this week. . . Sam Soong got his limit at Hall's. . . Clive Ball had four springs and cohoes in the inlet. . . Mr. and Mrs. Joyce fished every night last week and weren't skunked once at Goldstream. . . Strip seems the best bet in the inlet with plugs still the favorite at Cowichan Bay.

Ladder derby chairman Jack Clyde advises that ladder fishhook tickets will go on sale Monday at Wilson and Lent's with sale of Duffer's final fishhook tickets to commence a week later.

City Bowlers Eliminated

Victoria lawn bowlers lost all three games Thursday in the B.C. lawn bowling playoffs to determine the province's entries in the Canadian championships at Vancouver in August.

In doubles competition, B. Glynn and H. Renfrew of Victoria were defeated, 27-15, by Larry Steadman and Tom Moorcroft of Vancouver, while G. Morrison of White Rock downed Victoria's C. Fen, 30-16, in the rink event.

Steve Cole of Victoria's Canadian Pacific club, runner-up in last year's provincial playoffs, was defeated by S. W. Killick of Penikese, 21-20.

Worcester, Mass.—Don Williams, 134; Worcester, outpointed Barry Allison, 151 1/4, 104yoke (12).

Upset Marks City Net Tournament

Barbara Woolson and Ed Hedley scored a major upset in the city tennis championships at the Victoria Lawn Tennis and Badminton Club as they upset second-ranked team of Norma Horner and Carl Brand, 6-3, 6-3, Thursday evening to reach the finals.

In the other mixed doubles contest, Sharon Whittaker and Ted Smythe defeated Clare Kinnis and George MacMinn to join Miss Woolson and Hedley in the finals.

In men's singles, Victoria Club champ Ron Mitchell reached the semifinal with a convincing straight set win over George Bishop.

Mitchell and Art Ngai joined Ted Smythe and Carl Brand in the men's doubles final as they eliminated BCE champs Ivan Temple and Cranston Browning.

Today's draw:
8:30 p.m.—Men's singles semi-final, W. Cameron vs. G. Hartley.
9 p.m.—Women's singles semi-final, S. Whittaker vs. P. Ferguson.
9:15 p.m.—Women's singles semi-final, C. Kinnis vs. B. Woolson.
9:30 p.m.—Men's singles semi-final, R. Mitchell vs. T. Smythe.
9:45 p.m.—Men's singles semi-final, R. Mitchell vs. T. Smythe, P. Smith vs. J. Buis (flight), G. Moffatt vs. Ed Hedley (flight).
10 p.m.—Women's doubles semi-final, Sharon Whittaker and "Tommy" Elmsley vs. Judy Mangin and Donnie Clemens.

Philadelphia—Calvin Smith, 140; Philadelphia, stopped George Collins, 134, New York (8).

Tacoma Cheney Studs, e.g. Luther Carr, will be back at Athletic Park again Saturday to take another round-house crack at Victoria's Farmer Construction.

Carr, 19 years old and built like a brick smokehouse, hit two paralyzing home runs last Saturday as the weak-fielding but powerful-hitting Studs swept a Northwest International Baseball League doubleheader from the Farmers, 7-4, 7-5.

They could well do it again this Saturday. Although committing five errors in the field last week, they blasted Victoria hurlers for 19 hits, nine of them extra-base blows.

These of course were topped by Carr's two ninth-inning home runs, wiping out 4-2 and 5-3 Victoria leads, respectively.

The Tacoma squad is hitting at a breathtaking team average of .275.

To combat the big bats of the visitors, harassed Farmer manager Ed Ash will send to the Pacific Coast League.

Big Parade Planned as 'Starter' for Navy Day Festivities on August 15

Over 5,000 naval personnel will take part in Navy Day celebrations to be held at Beacon Hill Park Wednesday, August 15.

All ships of the Pacific fleet will be recalled from training exercises and over 1,000 officers and men will take part in a parade which will start the events at 10 a.m.

One of the biggest attractions, a carefully kept secret operation, will be detailed by the navy Saturday.

But the program of events already made public aims at new peaks of public entertainment and facilities are planned to accommodate crowds totalling 40,000 persons.

First attraction will be an hour-and-a-quarter-long parade, stepping off at 10 a.m. on Belleville Street west of the CPR wharf.

Accompanied by navy bandmen, the marchers will proceed east on Belleville and turn north on Government, passing a saluting base in front of the Empress Hotel. The parade will continue north on Government, turn east on Yates, north on Douglas to Fisgard.

The marching units, interspersed with 30 floats, will proceed east on Fisgard to Blanshard, Blanshard south to Yates, Yates to Douglas and thence to Beacon Hill Park.

Transferred to the navy for a day will be all the waterfront land along Dallas between Cook and Douglas.

Spectators will be treated first of all to a display of precision marching by picked troops including a color squad. One platoon will demonstrate how not to march and there will be costumes units proving the ability (as will also be done with floats) of the navy to laugh at itself.

There will be floats provided by the army and air force, joshing satires on the navy, followed of course, by floats making equal fun of the two "junior" services. It is anticipated the parade route will be decorated by merchants.

A tent city of static displays will open in the park area at noon with official ceremonies at 2:30 p.m. Aside from the displays of naval life, including those of educational facilities, electronics, a museum, a religious marquee, and a giant water-filled tank for use by frogmen, there will be enacted various stunts including a traditional crossing-the-line ceremony when King Neptune and his court will appear.

He will conduct the ritual of initiation afforded each seafarer as he crosses the equator for the first time.

Offshore, but well within sight of the crowd a destroyer and naval aircraft will cavort. Frogmen will attack the destroyer, the ship will go to action stations, there will be a high speed run and firing of guns.

In the evening, all displays will be repeated and at sunset the band will participate in sunset ceremonies. There will be a fireworks display after nightfall and a street dance.

The park area will be installed with a child nursery and diaper-changing station, a children's playground, a rest centre for adults, four "trains" with free rides for kiddies, and free children's movies.

Arrangements have been in the hands of a Navy Day committee headed by Capt. R. P. Welland, DSC, RCN.

Other members include Cmdr. D. L. MacKnight, Cmdr. John Hall, Lieut.-Cmdr. W. A. Mansfield, Lieut.-Cmdr. Roy Silvester, Lieut.-Cmdr. Fred Palmer, Lieut.-Cmdr. Bev Gillespie, Lieut. E. A. MacFayden, Lieut. P. L. Shirley.

Civilian members are parks administrator W. H. Warren, G.V.C.A. chairman Ald. Geoffrey I. Edgelow, Victoria police chief John Blackstock, H. L. Crombie, chamber of commerce secretary and Captain R. Newell, Victoria harbor-master.

A $35 fine and licence suspension was ordered in city police court today for William G. Staples, 1242 Fort, when he pleaded guilty to careless driving.

Staples was involved in a collision with another car at Fisgard and Blanshard, June 25.

"I never saw the other car until there was a flash of light in front of me," Staples told police.

Minister of Education Ray Wiliston will address some 125 B.C. high school principals and inspectors, who close a three-day conference here this weekend, at an informal dinner at the Pacific Club, Saturday at 7 p.m. He will discuss a recent trip to Amsterdam.

"Olympic Host," a color film previewing yachting conditions at Melbourne, Australia, will be shown to members of the Royal Victoria Yacht Club, tonight at 8. The 65-minute film was compiled by the Olympic Games Committee.

About 20 members of 4 Light Anti-Aircraft Battery Army Cadets Junior Corps will spend the weekend at Qualicum engaged in shooting, fieldcrafts and swimming as part of their summer training program.

Sunday they will parade to the war memorial cenotaph at Qualicum Beach where they will lay a wreath. Commanding officer of 5 Harbor Defence Battery, Maj. Douglas Nelson, will take the salute.

$75,000 More Work Planned On Dallas Road

The BC Cabinet today approved a grant of $75,000 to the city of Victoria for beautification of the Dallas road waterfront.

The action followed a Capital Improvement District Commission Thursday which rejected a city council recommendation Douglas Street in the vicinity that the initial CIDC grant be spent to beautify and widen of Beacon Hill Park.

Instead the committee of government and civic appointees recommended the grant be spent in this manner: $10,000 for steps to the beach at Marlborough street, $4,000 for beach steps at Moss street, a paved path along the waterfront bluff paralleling Dallas, $10,000, improvements to Clover Point including removal of a small hill, placing of wiring underground, removal of gun emplacement and other installations of the federal defence department, $25,800.

A balance of about $20,000 is to be expended on further Dallas road landscaping from Cook street west along Dallas.

The commission felt work started in this area under the old Capital City Grant Committee should be completed before other projects are undertaken.

A motorist who told police "I guess I must have been day-dreaming" before colliding with another car at Douglas and Pandora, was fined $35 in city police court today for careless driving.

William Bamford, 1215 Chapman, pleaded guilty. Magistrate Henry Hall also ordered his licence suspended. Damage to the two cars in the July 12 collision amounted to $600.

Victoria district health officials are keeping a careful eye open for poliomyelitis. Late July and early August has proved the most active period for the disease in the past. However, due possibly to the cycles in which the disease appears to operate, and the fact that Salk vaccine protection has been given the age groups most generally affected, incidence has been low this year. Four cases, all adults, have been reported this year from Saanich; none in Victoria-Esquamalt or Oak Bay health districts.

Investigation continued today into an early-morning break-in and theft Thursday at Two Jacks cigar store, 1315 Government.

Police said $60 was taken from a cash drawer. A rear window was open, they said, but it was doubtful that entry was made that way.

A link with Victoria will be forged at the 25th sordough reunion to be held in Portland, Ore., August 16-19.

Past international president of the group of old-timers, Tom Telfer, Vancouver, walked the trail of '98 and made the Westholme Hotel his group headquarters while here.

Many Canadian sordoughs are expected to attend the convention.

Samuel Patterson, 1503 Charlton, was fined $25 in Saanich court Thursday for failing to file an income tax information return.

John Claude Wilkie, 23, of Sidney, will stand trial in assize court this fall on a charge of rape.

He was committed by Magistrate Henry Hall Thursday at the conclusion of a preliminary hearing in Saanich court.

Wilkie is accused of raping a 19-year-old Sidney girl near Beaver Lake, July 17.

Fines of $25 for failing to file income tax information returns were imposed in city police court today on Orville Chase, 3116 Steele and John P. Norton, 1521 Edgeware.

"Should every university student take one science?" will be the subject of Dr. A. L. Doucette, visiting lecturer at the Summer School here, who will be guest speaker on the PTA program over CJVI, Sunday at 9:30 a.m. Dr. Doucette is a professor of education at the University of Alberta.

COUNSEL'S STATEMENT:

Sturdy Not Delaying Slander Action Trial

George Gregory, Victoria MLA and counsel for David Sturdy of Vancouver, today issued a flat denial of rumors that he is delaying the court hearing of the Sommers-Sturdy slander trial.

Mr. Gregory, in a written statement, said the next step in the case is up to Robert Sommers, the former lands and forests minister, who resigned his cabinet post over the issue, after starting the slander action against Sturdy.

Text of Mr. Gregory's statement follows:

"I have heard from enough sources to be concerned that a rumor is being spread abroad that I am deliberately delaying the Sturdy-Sommers case, and because nothing could be farther from the truth or more prejudicial to my client's interest, I feel that I should state the position at which matters now stand.

New BCHIS Rule To Be Studied By Doctors

A new regulation by B.C. Hospital Insurance Commission which may reduce free hospital diagnostic services for hospital patients is expected to come under fire at a board meeting of the B.C. Medical Society in Vancouver tonight.

Officials of two city hospitals are also expected to meet to study the effect on patients. One official described the new regulation as "one of the most dramatic changes ever made since the inception of BCHIS."

The new amendment to the BCHIS regulations was received by hospitals here this week.

It provides that no patient in hospital shall be entitled in future to receive any treatment or diagnostic service not connected with the illness or condition which necessitated his admittance to hospital, if such service could normally be rendered to an out-patient. Out-patient services are not free.

30-Acre Girl Guide Camp Proposed for Elk Lake

MARILYN TRIES WHITE CAPS FOR SIZE; RYDER SATISFIED

Marilyn Bell and Gus Ryder switched their scene of operations this morning from the comparatively calm water off Oak Bay to the open sea in front of the Breakwater.

Coach Ryder put Marilyn through a 1½-hour practice swim this morning, starting at the Breakwater and heading out past the Brothie Ledge marker. It was her first venture into open water since she began training in Victoria this week.

During the session, Marilyn encountered white caps and rough water but Ryder was pleased with her strong swimming through the heavy going.

Big Ben Stopped By Fickle Wind

Swimming Chef Beaten 5 Miles Out; New Attempt Early Saturday Morning

Hard-luck Ben Laughren, foiled by a fickle wind in his sixth crack at the Strait of Juan de Fuca this morning, hopes to try again early Saturday morning.

Laughren's trainer, veteran strait man Ove Witt, said:

"We're going on 24-hour alert. We hope to take off around 1:30 Saturday morning but we will be watching for a break in the weather and we could go at any time."

"We had tough luck Friday morning on a swim that looked perfect when it started. One of these days we are going to get the breaks coming our way and we'll go all the way."

The break that went against the 270-pound Victoria chef was a sudden shifting of the wind from north to south, forcing Laughren to leave the water four miles from his starting point after three hours and 11 minutes of strong swimming.

At 3 a.m. the wind suddenly reversed itself and instead of blowing at Laughren's back it turned into his face and raised a sloppy chop that made it impractical to continue.

Laughren was taken out of the water so that he would not expend his strength with the possibility of another attempt close at hand.

The swim started under near perfect conditions.

Greased with vaseline, the wise-cracking Laughren waved a cheery goodbye to a cluster of spectators and dove off the end of the Breakwater at 12:29.

Swimming a strong crawl, he passed the Brothie Ledge marker at 1 a.m. and was forced to swim through a thick tangle of kelp.

PERFECT NIGHT
The water was comparatively flat, the slight breeze was from the north and the night was crystal clear.

The plan of navigator Stan Page was for Laughren to start at high slack and to swim through slack water, reaching Constance Bank no later than 3:30, at which time he would hit a 6½-hour ebb tide calculated to sweep him in to Ediz Hook.

The calculations were dead on. Laughren hitting the fringe of the Bank at 3:15.

However, the calculations were knocked askew when the wind changed, raising white caps and making it difficult for Witt, in a small coaching boat, to keep contact with Laughren.

Laughren, who was halted in an earlier bid by a cramped arm after eight hours and by another unexpected wind after six hours of an earlier swim, was in excellent shape when he came out of the water and showed absolutely no ill effects from his three-hour immersion.

West Shore Property Option Taken By Group

A permanent camp for Girl Guides and Brownies is planned on the western shores of Elk Lake.

Option has been taken on 30 acres of wooded property of the Rainsford farm, and leading groups of the Girl Guide movement on Saanich peninsula are actively engaged in organizing a fund-raising campaign with a view to the purchase of the site.

Ideal for the purpose intended, the lakeside property offers 1,000 feet of beach for swimming.

A meeting of regional Girl Guide organizers will be held later this month to consider the venture, and means of financing the venture, according to James T. McKevitt of Brentwood Bay, prominently identified with youth recreational activities in the district.

The provisional committee appointed to take charge of the fund-raising campaign is composed of J. T. McKevitt and C. L. Dickens, Brentwood; Kenneth Cronk, Cordova Bay; Mrs. N. H. C. Fraser, Deep Cove; and Mrs. J. Nimmo, Saanichton.

Girl Guide groups on the peninsula at present interested in the outdoor camp project include Brentwood, Sidney, Deep Cove, Saanichton, Prospect Lake, Marigold, Tillicum and Cordova Bay.

Decision to organize a separate camp for Saanich peninsula groups was influenced by seasonal overcrowding at the Milnes Landing camp maintained by the Victoria Girl Guide movement. This camp has been attended in past years by Saanich guides and brownies.

It is now intended to make the proposed Elk Lake camp the headquarters for the whole of the Saanich peninsula.

Suitable buildings will be erected on the site for the summer accommodation of the guide groups.

Cost of the Elk Lake property is $7,000, with a minimum down payment to bind the deal. "This is a laudable project which could interest service club sponsorship," Mr. McKevitt said.

Great Eastern Railway from Lillooet to the coast.

"It's finer mountain scenery than I've ever seen before," he said.

RE-NAMES STREET
During the day he re-named Railway Avenue in Williams Lake as Mackenzie Avenue, and chatted with 86-year-old Roderick Mackenzie, pioneer storekeeper and former Conservative MLA.

He had a picnic lunch atop Mount Begbie, a glass of beer in the Frontier Hotel at Clinton, and refreshments at the 200,000-acre Diamond Head ranch of Col. Victor Spencer.

He boarded his train at Lillooet for the trip to Squamish, where he met the Jonquiere for the crossing to Victoria.

Three Playgrounds Open Monday

Three city parks will begin a three-week round of supervised playground activities Monday, allowing three others to close this weekend.

Stadacona, Quadra Heights and Redfern Parks will take the place of Banfield, James Bay and Hollywood for the final weeks of summer supervision. They will be supervised each afternoon from 1:30 to 5 p.m.

Central and Beacon Hill Parks will remain open throughout the season.

Playgrounds director Gordon Hartley reported a drop in attendance this week due to the high temperatures.

"Children are just not energetic on days like Thursday," he said.

Attendance was up at Central and Beacon Hill Parks, where children flocked to the wading pools.

(Times Fashion Editor Nona Damaske, in New York for the 57th National Press Week, reports fashion's latest trends to Victoria readers.)

By NONA DAMASKE

We fashion writers are slowing up! Writing stories till 2 a.m. and up again at 7 a.m. isn't conducive to bright eyes first thing in the morning.

It is all so new and interesting that I hate to miss a thing. Some of the editors miss a few shows which they feel aren't of too much interest and then write their stories during the day, but I feel I should see every single thing, as I might miss something very new!

We remained in the 7th Avenue garment district all morning and saw three shows in the showrooms of Anthony Blotta, Ben Reig, and Maurice Rentner.

I was not at all familiar with the designs of Anthony Blotta, but found some of his ideas quite refreshing. He uses the name "Wrap Rascal" to describe a dashing blend of cape and coat, cut full but smooth, with a tailored shoulder line, below which are flat cape panels instead of sleeves.

"Royal Flush" is an opulent black coat that, opened, reveals a Royal Flush in Hearts imprinted in natural size on an inside pocket.

Ben Reig showed one of the most expensive collections of Press Week. The air-conditioned salon in itself was a delight. The clothes were modelled to full advantage against Dove grey walls with intricately carved panels and wall scones.

Here again we saw broadtail used for restaurant suits and cocktail dresses—very expensive and very elegant. For the first time were shown late-day dresses of Italian silk with swinging overskirts of Italian fringe.

The bustline necklace was used on sleek wool afternoon dresses. The necklace follows the high Empire line and often has a bob-like drop ornament at one side.

After lunch in the Carnival Room at the Sherry-Netherland Hotel, we returned to our headquarters, the Pierre ballroom. Here we viewed the suits and coats bearing the well-known label "Davidoff." These are costumes very similar to many of our own suits and coats—British Linton tweeds, lively-colored Irish tweeds and Glen plaids.

The Anne Fogarty label is one which we often see in our shops but I must say her styling has changed this season.

18-INCH WAIST

To me, Anne Fogarty has always typified the fitted basque bodice and billowing skirt with several crinolines. This styling was still quite apparent but about one-half the garments were sheaths. Mrs. Fogarty highlights her collection with the "Columnette Sheath," an eased slimness with line, color and texture that seem to wrap the torso. Mrs. Fogarty herself is very petite with an 18-inch waist—yes, I asked her!

The word had been going around all day that Oleg Cassini was really in fine fettle and would put on quite a show. Advised that he was quite a showman, I sat close to the runway and I nearly jumped out of my seat when, with a great blast of trumpets, he burst through the curtains and danced down to the end of the platform.

He is 43 years old, handsome, tall, lean and of Russian birth. He was married to Gene Tierney and his brother Cholly Knickerbocker is a noted columnist. Cassini claims that this, his 21st collection, must be his best collection because in creat-

Everyone Will Be Eating Salads During Hot Weather

By PENNY SAVER

A long, cold drink, a leafy, chilled salad and some fresh fruit—what could be nicer on such a hot day? Nourishing and refreshing, a light lunch such as this is standard summer fare in most homes. A basic vegetable for most salads in crisp lettuce, selling in town at nine cents a head, or two larger heads for a quarter. Green onions are another must, and they're 13 cents for two bunches. At the same price are bright, nippy radishes, while celery is 25 cents a stalk. Endives are 15 cents, and cucumbers are a dime.

Nearly everyone has a favorite salad dressing that is whipped up with a flourish when salad time comes 'round. Whether it's an oil and vinegar concoction or a more elaborate dressing you crave, there are ready-mixed dressings that need only to be shaken and poured into the salad. Garlic dressing, costing 59 cents, has many other uses aside from salads, for this liquid can be brushed on chops, steaks, roasts, and onto stew meat, giving an interesting flavor to the meat.

Caesar dressing, meant, of course, to go in Caesar salad, costs 69 cents. A dressing called "Buccaneer" is good on turkey, chicken, cold meats, in sandwiches or over hot vegetables. A bottle costs 65 cents. Bleu cheese dressing is yours at 65 cents, and coleslaw sauce, that can also be used on fish, is a dill mix and costs 45 cents.

For a salad of lettuce, radishes, cucumbers and tomatoes, use a Russian dressing that has a tomato content in the sauce itself. A bottle of this rich sauce is 65 cents. An all-purpose dressing with Sauterne wine in it comes in a 59-cent bottle with two salad recipes on the side.

For those of you on low-calorie diets, there's an egg yolk dressing that is sugar and starch free and sweetened with saccharine. A regular-sized bottle is 75 cents.

A French dressing made with garlic and wine vinegar is another favorite, and costs 59 cents per bottle. For desserts, either fresh fruit as is or fruit salad is cooling and delicious. Loganberries are two boxes for 39 cents, and raspberries are either two boxes for 49 cents or 25 cents a box. Peaches are four for 25 and 27 cents, depending on the size. Sweet nectarines are two for a quarter, and the jumbo ones are two for 39 cents. Locally grown cherries are 25 cents a pound; local bings, 32 cents a pound, and sweet Royal Anne's, 25 cents. Cooking cherries are 25 cents a pound.

85 Years Ago Today - B.C. Joined Canada

British Columbia became a province 85 years ago today.

On July 20, 1871, B.C.'s status as a Crown colony was dropped and the province linked with Ottawa rather than London, England.

There was little celebration in Victoria. A tar barrel was burned, fireworks set off, British ships off Esquimalt flew bunting and a 21-gun salute was fired.

WHY GROW OLD?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Here, Ladies, Are Helpful Motoring Hints for You

Considering the fact that women spend so much time in their cars I am giving you a few suggestions for the feminine motorist. I already have talked about posture while driving and described the unattractive aftermath of poor posture during the hours you are in your car.

1. If you drive a great deal in the summertime you may soon find yourself with one arm which is several shades darker than the other. Long sleeves in hot weather are not feasible. You could have a separate sleeve (just from wrist to elbow) to slip on when you drive. If you do not want to bother with this you can use suntan make-up on your inside arm when you dress for special occasions.

2. Even in a car your face may become wind-burned or may be dried out by hot dusty gusts and the heat from the road. Why not use a base?

You can get one for dry skins.

3. Your lips also may become dry or chapped. Be sure that your lipstick is not too dry. Apply one of the colorless pomades on long trips.

4. Remember that loose hair blowing in your face is dangerous. Let me also call your attention to the fact that flowing sleeves are not practical for efficient driving.

5. Usually we feel the most fatigue through the neck and shoulders, after a long motor trip. When you reach your destination lie flat on your back on the floor. This is more restful than on a bed. Stretch your neck slowly against the floor, making it as long as possible. Turn onto your abdomen and place a hot water bottle or a heating pad on your shoulders and the back of your neck.

6. Hurry and fatigue lead to accidents. Surveys have shown that emotional factors are a major cause of traffic accidents. Do not drive when emotionally upset or when extremely tired.

'Love and Marriage' Attitude in Japan Undergoing Change

TOKYO, (AP)—The strict, age-old code surrounding Japanese love and marriage appears to be bending, with Japanese girls displaying a growing attitude of independence.

Replies to 1,000 questionnaires distributed to students at Tokyo's Keio University disclosed: 1. Fewer than 10 per cent of the girls and a little more than 10 per cent of the boys approved the old method whereby marriages were arranged by parents.

2. Fifty-five per cent of the girls and 48 per cent of the men thought love always should precede marriage. In the old days, love had nothing to do with a wedding; frequently boy met girl only after the wedding date was set. Still, 30 per cent of the girls and 25 per cent of the boys thought love could be found even with a parent-selected spouse, given enough time together before the wedding.

3. Forty-seven per cent of the coeds reject the retiring home role for women. They said a wife should have some work outside. Only 12 per cent of the boys agreed. A majority of both sexes said they did not want to live with parents.

Dating and coeducation were virtually unknown in Japanese high schools and colleges before the war.

Miss Marilyn Hunter Wed in Los Angeles

Candles in two large candleholders decorated with flowers and ribbons shed light on the altar of Robertson Community Methodist Church, Los Angeles, and aqua and white flower baskets formed a floral background for the wedding ceremony which united in marriage Miss Marilyn Hunter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin James Hunter, 2306 Cranmore road, and Mr. Hugh Carson, Rev. Alford B. Chalk officiated at the double-ring ceremony. Aqua ribbons were looped from floral-decked candleholders across the pews on both sides of the main aisle. Mrs. Beatrice Stevenson, soloist, sang "If I Could Tell You" and "Wedding Prayer."

The bride wore a period gown of nylon tulle and rose point lace. Bodice was fashioned with cap sleeves and a portrait neckline. A full, tulle skirt was applied with medallions of lace, extending into a chapel train. Her fingertip veil of French illusion net was held in place by a double tiara of iridescent sequins and pearls, and she carried a cascade bouquet of red roses, gardenias and lily of the valley. A single strand of miniature cultured pearls, a gift from the groom, was the bride's only jewelry.

Mrs. Peter M. Perram, matron of honor, wore an aqua nylon dress, and bridesmaid, Mrs. Margaret Murphy, wore a dusky coral nylon dress. Both dresses were fashioned with scooped necklines, gathered cap sleeves and gathered bodices with long torsos and full skirts in ballerina length. They wore matching headbands of net and pearls, which held shoulder-length veils. Mrs. Perram carried a cascade, crescent-shaped bouquet of dusky coral-tinted carnations with white stephanotis, and Miss Murphy carried aqua carnations with stephanotis.

Best man was Frank M. McKee, and ushers Gordon L. Hunter, James Doolittle and Dr. Milton Miklas.

A reception party was held in the church hall. A three-tier pedestal cake was decorated with coral, aqua and white rosebuds, hearts and bells, and centred the lace cloth-covered table. Tinted coral carnations and sweet peas were arranged around the cake.

12½-Mile Swim? Shucks, He'll Do It Handcuffed

The 30-year-old Struble is to enter the water at nearby Angola and make for the amusement park at Crystal Beach, Ont. The distance is 12½ miles and he expects to cover it in less than 10 hours.

Struble is no newcomer to handicapped lake swims. He once swam 4½ miles in a straight-jacket.

For Saturday's feat his manager, Arthur Kimball, says the father of four will lie on his back for part of the crossing, and propel himself with flippers attached to his feet.

Miss Universe To Be Crowned Canadian Out

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP)—Fifteen beautiful girls from as many different countries compete tonight for the title of Miss Universe of 1957.

Seeking the highest prize in this annual international beauty contest will be alluring representatives of Europe, South America, Latin America, Scandinavia, the Middle East and the United States.

The 15 fascinating ambassadors of beauty were selected Thursday night from a field of 30 to set the stage for the crowning of the queen tonight.

Canada's entry, who didn't make it into tonight's finals, is Elaine Bishenden, an 18-year-old Toronto beauty.

As the week-long contest neared its end, the 72 girls competing got together to select the one among them who best typified the spirit of friendship and goodwill that is the pageant's main theme. They voted the award to Anabelle Grandos, 18, of Costa Rica.

The Douglas fir is named in honor of David Douglas, a Scottish botanist who introduced it into Europe in 1827.

'BATTLE OF THE TONYS' ON CHANNEL 4 AT 7

HOMO SAPIENS—What's your secret dream? What would you like to own?

Emcee of the new quiz show, "High Finance," Dennis James, asked the public for help when he was making up his prize lists and got some eye-openers.

"We got 10,000 letters before the show even went on the air," he said. "And we've been getting them by the thousands every day since."

Although the bulk of questions were in the U.S. dreamed of mundane things like gasoline stations, motels and farms, others dreamed with imagination and verve. Here are some of the items they wanted.

One woman in Wisconsin wrote to James to tell him she'd like to win a doll hospital and doll museum on her show.

A COP in New York wanted a frozen custard stand. A woman in Iowa wanted to earn enough to finance an expedition for uranium and gold.

An elderly man wrote to explain he wanted to learn how to conduct an orchestra. He dreamed of going to Heidelberg, Germany, where his daughter is a soprano with a local opera company and conduct one work for her.

Another dreamed of owning a stable of horses. Another wanted a vineyard and still another wanted to own a castle in Ireland.

A young man in Indiana confessed that he had always a hankering to own a snake farm. There was a man from upstate New York whose greatest dream was to own a funeral parlor.

And what about James himself? He dreams of owning a motel some day. "Trouble is," he admits ruefully, "my time is so taken up with shows like this that I know that my motel will always be out of reach."

ASTROLOGICAL FORECAST

ASTROLOGICAL FORECAST

SATURDAY, JULY 21, 1956

ARIES (March 21 to April 19)—Get after that official who can aid you to be very down-to-earth in doing your own career, vocational, credit job more efficiently.
Looking at conditions from a civic, patriotic angle aids greatly.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20)—All kinds of data is available to you from your newspapers, radio, TV, library, periodicals and trade or executive journals that apply to your own work as well as newcomers, lectures and listening to what expert say. Be open-minded.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21)—It's essential today you forget the floss and tinsel of things to get yourself and your affairs on a more solid and secure basis. Be sure to think in terms of co-operative ventures rather than going it alone now.

CANCER (June 22 to July 21)—Much chit-chat with all others may seem unimportant. But it holds the germ and the seed to the answer to whatever is necessary to make your dreams real. Be sure you cement any pending deals, contract.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21)—Doing your work more with an eye to how financial conditions can be improved necessary now if you are to get full advantage of today's influence. Make sure you do this in all departments of your work, career, family, social, etc.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22)—Taking dynamic, but touchy, partner to some attractive place puts such person in good mood. Then you can bring up that $64,000 question for which you eagerly await the answer. It's very real if you do.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22)—Your household requires your careful attention today. Make changes or quietly put in operation new arrangements you feel will please everyone there. You get their grateful appreciation by so doing.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21)—This is a wonderful day to get off early to place where you get your best beauty treatment, haircut or other personal service that brings you feeling of well-being. Then attend pleasure, recreation sites with chosen comrades.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21)—Financial plans of importance can be discussed with banker, experts, all professional persons so you get in position where those in power see your best qualities and grant you material rewards. Keep on down-to-earth levels.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20)—This is your day to make acquaintance of newcomer of foreign birth or who has very different background from yours-but who is in a position to give you the information that rounds out your plans. Accept advice gladly.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19)—Fearing out real motives of others, uncovering just what has been going on about you, serving those unostentatiously who look to you for assistance brings you co-operation from wealthy or expert advisors.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20)—Now you have it in your power this first day to really go after your hopes and wishes full blast. You will find an influential individual will now aid you, thus releasing power for you to work with. Be appreciative.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN SATURDAY . . .
Saturday's child is one of those very brash youngsters who will always be ready for a good argument or some change of plans. So it's best to train and educate your offspring in occupations that require a variety and change of interests, such as art or real estate where he goes from one subject or piece of property to another. Otherwise, your child will feel closed in and frustrated and will not be able to make the swift advancement and progress which could otherwise be his or hers.

SUNDAY, JULY 22, 1956

ARIES (March 21 to April 19)—Early decide how inaccurate. You want to go off the deep end but up-to-date, modern-minded newcomers and gain data you need.

budget for operation in financial and personal matters.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21)—A co-worker's usual duties seem difficult to manage this morning, especial-

Adenaur Gets Conscription

12,000,000 Liable to Army Draft Under Measure Enacted at Bonn

BONN, Germany (UP)—The West German parliament today gave final approval to Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's draft bill making 12,000,000 young Germans liable for military service.

O.C. Cricket

LONDON (Reuters)—Cricket results in Britain today:

Somerset 116 and 113, Leicestershire 255. Leicestershire won by an innings and 26 runs. Glamorgan 176 and 111 for 9 declared. Yorkshire 92 and 94 for 5. Draw.

Essex 187, Derbyshire 187 for 9. Match abandoned, no play today, rain.

Players 236, Gentlemen 179 for 8. Match abandoned, no play today, rain.

Middlesex 64 and 262, Kent 282 and 46 for 1. Kent won by 9 wickets.

Lancashire 207 for 7 declared and 0 for 1 declared. Nottinghamshire 86 and 93 for 7. Draw.

Worcestershire 257 and 161, Sussex 261 for 5 declared and 9 for no wicket. Draw.

Royal Air Force 216 for 8 declared, Northamptonshire 278 for 8. Draw.

Gloucestershire 202 for 5 declared, Hampshire 62 for 5. Draw.

It was approved by the Bundestag (lower House) on its third reading after a stormy 18-hour session July 7.

The bill becomes law as soon as it is signed by President Theodor Heuss.

The government plans to draft some 36,000 men to fill out the 12 divisions of the 500,000-man Bundeswehr which West Germany had pledged to raise by the end of 1959 for western defence.

The first draftees probably will not be called to the colors until next year. Defence Minister Theodor Blank presently is concentrating on enlisting and training 96,000 long-service volunteers he hopes to have under arms by year's end.

FIVE DIVISIONS
These will form the cadres of the first five West German divisions.

The conscription bill did not specify any length of compulsory military service. It will affect all able-bodied Germans between the ages of 18 and 45, but in practice conscripts will be drafted when they reach 19.

As originally drawn up, the bill set a draft period of 18 months. But the bundestag on its first reading reduced the period to 12 months.

COLDWELL WILL GRILL ALTA. CCFer

OTTAWA (CP)—National CCF leader Coldwell said Thursday night William Irvine, Alberta president of the CCF, will be questioned on his return to Canada about statements he is reported to have made to a correspondent of the Russian news agency Tass in Kiev.

London dispatches Thursday said Tass quoted Mr. Irvine as having said the democratic nature of the Supreme Soviet of the U.S.S.R. "is matched by few parliaments in other democratic countries," and predicting Russia will attain the highest standard of living in the world.

Mr. Coldwell said in a statement that Tass has not been noted for its news accuracy, adding Mr. Irvine will be queried in connection with any statement he may have made. The statement added: "If there is any suggestion at all of approval by him of a political system based on a one-party dictatorship, it will be immediately and completely repudiated by the CCF."

BRUSHED DEATH
VANCOUVER—Army officials said today that Miss Mary Pelech would have been blown "out of this world" if she had continued to sweep her garage after discovering a pile of explosives.

An army demolitions experts said the 17 sticks of dynamite were "in an advanced state of deterioration, with nitro-glycerine running onto the garage floor."

More than 50 detonating caps were also found in the garage.

Tops In Teens

A summertime feature, Tops in Teens, will seek to focus the spotlight on Victoria and district teenagers who are representative of the great majority of our fine young people.

On Her Toes For 12 Years

A YOUNG TEENAGER WHO has been on her toes, literally, for 12 years is Valerie Parkin, 17, Grade 12 student at Victoria High School.

Valerie has studied with Florence Clough since the age of five, and in May she reached the top with a toe-tap, opening their annual dance revue at the Royal Theatre.

The attractive teeny varies her stiff dancing schedule with studies and social activities at school. "Valerie is a first class student, as well as being a delightful girl," says her high school counsellor, Miss Jessie C. Roberts.

SHE IS ACTIVE IN Y-Teens, Vic High Majorettes and represented the social committee on the student council. On the sports side, she plays grass hockey, basketball, and carried Vic High's "gold and black" into the inter-high track meet.

Valerie plans to attend Victoria College, specializing in physical education, and perhaps later, open a dance studio here. "Right now I'm concentrating on school," she says.

Valerie is working as a stenographer at Sidney Roofing during the summer months. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Parkin, 1330 Mitchell street.

Bullets Kill Mother, Daughter In Battleford Affray; 2 Wounded

BATTLEFORD, Sask. (CP)—Bullets from a .22-calibre revolver killed two persons late Thursday and left two others in critical condition in hospital.

Shot and killed were Mrs. Nellie Yakywin, 34, and her 15-year-old daughter, Judy.

Police said a charge would be laid later today.

Mrs. Yakywin's brother, Henry Bedyk, 28, and the man for whom she kept house, Marion A. Wojewoda, 50, were in hospital in nearby North Battleford.

Police said Mrs. Yakywin and her daughter had been shot in the head with a .22-calibre revolver. Bedyk was reported improving in hospital today with a bullet wound in the abdomen.

Wojewoda was in serious condition with three bullet wounds in his chest.

The shooting took place in Wojewoda's four-room frame bungalow situated on the main street of this town 80 miles northwest of Saskatoon. Police Chief O. Beaudry narrowly missed being shot when he was called to investigate.

FIRE AT CHIEF
First news of the incident came when the dead woman's brother staggered down to a basement suite in the house to tell Mrs. Maxine Brookman, a tenant, that he had been shot.

Stanley Tupper, Mrs. Brookman's father who was visiting at the time, notified police and called for an ambulance to take the wounded man to hospital.

When Chief Beaudry reached the residence he found Judy lying on her right side just inside the front door.

Downtown Merchants Complain About Soot
Ald. Don Smith reported to city council Thursday that complaints are being registered by Government street merchants against soot which they suspect comes from harbor shipping.

Council will ask city smoke inspector Tom Walker to check.

GOOD NAVIGATORS
Pacific golden plovers nest in Alaska and winter in New Zealand, making the trip by way of Hawaii and tiny islands in the Pacific.

Her purse lay beside her and she was dead—shot between the eyes, apparently as she was leaving the house. In falling her head had pushed the screen door ajar.

Chief Beaudry said that as he leaned over to examine the body he looked up to see Wojewoda pointing a revolver at him from a bedroom doorway. He ducked, and a bullet slapped into the wood behind him, missing him by inches.

The police chief was unarmed at the time and said he "beat a hasty retreat" to get his revolver. While he was gone, Wojewoda apparently fired three bullets into his own body and then rushed out of the house. He was apprehended by Walter Rolland, sheriff's officer of the Battleford court, Neil Smith, and Doug Light, employees of a nearby service station.

Mrs. Yakywin was found dead on the kitchen floor, lying on her back about six feet from the back door.

Police late Thursday night said there was no known motive for the shooting.

A jury was empanelled by Coroner Dr. Albert Weir of Speers, and adjourned after viewing the bodies.

"I could scarcely move with pain in my back!"

Here is the story of a man whose experience might have been yours or that of a dear friend. Mr. Marshall R. George, 31 Rich Ave., Galt, Ont., writes: "About a year ago I woke up one morning with such a pain in my back I could scarcely move. A friend who saw how I was suffering suggested that I try Templeton's T-R-C's. T-R-C's gave me quick and satisfactory relief. You can believe me that I would hate to wake up some morning without T-R-C's in the house. I say wholeheartedly and sincerely that anyone suffering from lumbago, sciatica, rheumatic or arthritic pain should give Templeton's T-R-C's a fair trial! If you suffer from any of these complaints, look for blessed relief with T-R-C's—only 79c and $1.50 at drug counters."

Marilyn's Diary

She's folks!

Being a long-distance swimmer doesn't leave me an awful lot of time to follow the interests of other 18-year-old girls. Still, I don't do very much training in the winter time and it is then that I can get back to a normal teen-ager's life.

One of my big interests, outside of swimming, is music, mostly in the listening line.

I think Perry Como is the finest singer, with Nat Cole running a close second. I like Benny Goodman and I have a big collection of Glenn Miller records.

As to my own music abilities, I sang in a glee club at school and made an unfortunate effort to learn piano. I say unfortunate because I started taking lessons shortly before my Lake Ontario swim. Since that time, I haven't had a chance to get back to it and my only claim to piano fame is that I know how to play the first half of Good King Wenceslas. What a repertoire!

I can't stand rock and roll music; I just don't see anything in it.

Like any girl my age, I enjoy parties and like dancing.

I guess my eating tastes are just about as bad as they could be for a swimmer who has to train and watch her weight.

But I have to admit, my favorite dishes are spaghetti and meat balls, pizza pie, Chinese food and cabbage rolls. The mother of my chum, Maria Brenk, makes the most delicious cabbage rolls in the world.

I don't get as much time as I would like to read, but when I do get a chance, I like to make the most of it by reading something good.

Right now I am reading The Fall of the Titan, by Igor Gouzenko. It's pretty heavy and hard going but I am trying to wade through it. I recently finished reading a really wonderful book, "Love Is Eternal," the story of Abraham Lincoln and his wife.

Gov't Blueprints $10 Million Plan For James Bay

Long-Term Building Expansion
Proposals Put Before Planners

Cloudbursts Wrack U.K., West Germany

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP)—New cloudbursts and thunderstorms caused devastating floods today in West Germany. Damages to crops and livestock ranged into the millions of dollars.

German police and fire brigades, helped by British, American and Belgian troops, pushed relief operations.

There were no new reports of fatalities. At least 10 people died last Saturday and Sunday when torrential rains swept much of both West and East Germany, causing heavy damage.

Across the English Channel, southern England was drenched by more than an inch of rain in less than four hours. It brought the total for July to 4.85, the highest for the first 20 days of the month since 1875. Rail lines and roads were flooded, production was retarded in some factories and some families had to quit their homes.

The new floods in Germany ranged over vast sections between the town of Fulda and Edersee, Germany's biggest water reservoir.

FOLLOWS U.S. LEAD

U.K. Cancels Offer To Aid Aswan Dam

LONDON (UP)—Britain followed the United States lead today and withdrew its offer of financial aid for Egypt's Aswan Dam.

A foreign office spokesman announced in London that Britain had "concluded that it is not feasible in the present circumstances to participate in the project."

That was the identical language used by the state department Thursday night in disclosing the withdrawal of the U.S. offer to help build the proposed high dam on the Nile River.

Informed sources said the surprise western move was a calculated risk designed to deflate Egyptian President Gamel Abdel Nasser and put Russia on the spot.

They said it will put a stop to Nasser's game of playing off the United States and Britain against Russia in an angle for the best deal. And they suggested that Russia may find itself in an embarrassing situation since there is a question whether the Soviets can afford to make good on their vague offer to aid in building the $1.3 billion water project.

But Egyptian government sources in Cairo said that withdrawal of the Western aid offers may boomerang against the United States and Britain. Instead of forcing Egypt to change its policy of co-operation with Russia, they said, the action is likely to push the Nasser government even closer to the Soviet Union, because Egypt will now have no alternative but to turn to Moscow for help.

Quebec Marksman Leading Way Toward Queen's Prize at Bisley

BISLEY, Eng. (Reuters)—It may be Canada's turn this year for the Queen's Prize at the Bisley rifle-shooting contest.

Lieut. Edson Warner of Lennoxville, Que., today came through in the second stage of the competition with a top score of 142, which counts in Saturday's final.

He was firing a tie shoot with A. F. Broomley and Capt. A. W. Cliff, both of Britain, who also scored 142 in today's match for the Silver Medal.

All shooters who score over 135 are entitled to compete in Saturday's finals.

Other scores by Canadians: N. L. Beckett, Ancaster, Ont., 138; Cpl. S. Goddard, Victoria, 127; H. M. Oliver, Halifax, 137; F. C. Sullivan, New Westminster, B.C., 132; M. A. Loton, Ancaster, Ont., 137; B. Oddgaard, Edmonton, 123; J. R. Ouellette, Windsor, Ont., 141; T. A. Richardson, Montreal, 141, and J. S. Vallance, Calgary, Alta., 118.

Beckett also placed fifth in the Grand Aggregate competition consisting of 10 events with a score of 567. Winner of this match was P. A. Pavay of Australia with a score of 569 for a possible 605.

Other scores by Canadians in this competition were Warner 566 and Sullivan 565.

Cpl. Goddard, a member of the RCAF, is stationed in Germany. He is a member of the 12-man RCAF rifle team competing in Bisley. When he first entered Bisley, he was dubbed a "tyro" but in subsequent shoots proved himself an excellent marksman.

Lieut. Edson Warner of Lennoxville, Que., today came through in the second stage of the competition with a top score of 142, which counts in Saturday's final.

'Quit NATO Army' Plan Spurned by Campney

SUB KILLERS COME HIGH

Cost of destroyer escorts like the HMCS St. Laurent, shown here on trial run, has climbed from $8,000,000 to $23,000,000, Defence Minister Campney has revealed. The program calls for 14 such ships to be built. Two, the Fraser and the Terra Nova, are being built here at Yarrow and Victoria Machinery Depot.

Civic Heads Plan Study of Merger

Mayor Percy Scurrell and the reeves of Greater Victoria today agreed to set up an amalgamation committee.

The group, comprising an appointee by each council, will study the recently completed amalgamation survey conducted in this area.

The city hall meeting resolved that each member of the committee should be a man of "good financial background," Mayor Scurrell said later.

No appointments will be made until the municipal heads discuss the matter with the B.C. government. They will ask a government advisor be named to the committee as a first step.

REQUIRES STUDY
Mayor Scurrell said the reeves were "amiable and frank" and all felt the amalgamation report (completed for the Chamber of Commerce by Citizens' Research Institute of Canada) should be given prolonged study and a recommendation should finally be made for or against municipal union.

The report, compiled over a period of months at a cost of $5,000 recommends full amalgamation for Greater Victoria.

"But there is no definite plan laid down in the brief," the mayor said.

Reeves A. C. Wurtele of Esquimalt and F. E. Norris of Oak Bay expressed apprehension that amalgamation might mean loss of identity of the smaller municipalities.

Pearkes Rebuffed In Defence Debate

OTTAWA (CP)—Defence Minister Campney today rejected any suggestion that Canada withdraw its forces from Europe in the near future.

He also indicated in the Commons defence debate that there is no prospect of any major reductions in defence spending.

Mr. Campney was referring to a statement Thursday night by Maj.-Gen. G. R. Pearkes, VC, Progressive Conservative military critic, that the government should give serious thought to withdrawing Canadian forces from Europe.

Gen. Pearkes also urged cuts in defence spending next year. The minister said the government is concerned with any changes in East-West relations. But the apparent softening of the Russian attitude could not be evaluated yet.

NATO had built a deterrent and this was the best defence the West could have. It was one thing for a prospective opponent to launch an attack if he knew there was no great defence against him. It was entirely another thing if he knew there would be heavy retaliation.

PRAYER FOR TODAY

ETERNAL GOD, we pray today for a lifting of the blanket of fear which smother the nations. May we find some way to use our substance for better things than armaments which impede our progress with their dragging weight and fearsome rate of obsolescence; through Jesus Christ. Amen.

MONROE PANICS CAMERAMEN

This is the pose by Marilyn Monroe that sent British newspaper photographers into a mad scramble at press conference shortly after her riotous welcome. Marilyn's black dress was described most sensationally ever seen on any film star. With tight-fitting cap and skirt, sleeveless, and midriff of black chiffon, six inches of Monroe torso was visible. Marilyn cracked: "It isn't my idea—but it's my midriff."

Who forgot to stoke the furnace?

Just about time they amalgamated all them amalgamation committees...

M'Uncle Zeke claims them Bisley big shots is just a lot of small bores.

to take the matter up with the Capital Regional Planning Board.

A member of the commission said he expected full development of the area would cost in the neighborhood of $1,000,000.

One of the main requisites would be construction of a "cut through" between Portage Inlet and Thetis Cove in Esquimalt Harbor.

This would establish a new site for small boat businesses where yachts and motor launches could be moored.

Alderman Geoffrey Edgewood said all residents of Greater Victoria should support the development as the area is bounded by all municipalities with the exception of Oak Bay.

"The commission is to be commended on giving consideration to development of the inlet," he said.

ADVISED AGAINST

At a meeting Thursday, the commission was advised against tackling construction of a maritime museum for Greater Victoria as suggested by Esquimalt Council.

The advice came from Maj. Gen. Howard Kennedy, chairman of the Federal District Commission in Ottawa—a planning body similar to the B.C. authority.

"In my opinion this board should not play with a project of this scope," Maj. Gen. Kennedy told the commission. "If you want federal aid, it should be taken up with the historic monuments committee of the Department of Northern Affairs and Resources."

"Construction of all museums should come under the federal department," he said.

Major-General Kennedy told the commission the Federal District Commission in Ottawa usually negotiated for land with the owners, and if no satisfactory agreement could be reached, the land was expropriated.

"We have found that decentralization of government buildings is the best answer to long-range planning," he said.

CLOSE TO OFFICE

"We have found that it is best to have government buildings around the periphery of a city. In that way workers do not have to travel so far to their work but can live quite close to their offices."

The two scale models showing suggested plans for development of the precinct at James Bay suggest that the government intends putting up at least 15 more buildings in the area during the next 25 years.

Chairman Pennington said it is likely that members of the commission will visit Ottawa during the next 12 months in order to see how the federal planning body works.

"The federal commission has been operating for 20 or 30 years and being a young organization there is no doubt we can learn something from it," Mr. Pennington said.

He added that the federal commission, which has been in charge of the beautification and development of Ottawa for the past 50 years, might send a horticulturist to Victoria to advise the B.C. commission.

Car Hits Officer, Driver Fined $40

Edwin Crabbe, 2130 Ridge, whose car struck a policeman directing traffic at an intersection, was fined $40 for careless driving in city police court today.

Crabbe said he was waved through the intersection at Broad and Johnson by Const. J. E. Kelly and then took his eyes off the policeman when another car came through.

Const. Kelly was struck by the left front fender of the car. He was not seriously injured and was off duty only four hours as a result of the accident.

Magistrate Henry Hall also ordered Crabbe's licence suspended.

Forty high-stepping youngsters at Reynolds Park are in training for the park's closing exercises in early August. The drill team, organized by playground supervisor Mrs. Muriel Overton, will be headed by four pet majorettes.

Official uniform will be a cardboard hat, covered with bright paper and sparkle, white shirt and shorts.

ACROSS THE PROVINCE

3 Tourists Feared Victims Of Car Wreck in Mountains

(From the Canadian Press)

REVELSTOKE—The body of one woman has been found and search is under way for two more in the Goldstream river in which a car plunged from the Big Bend highway, 35 miles north of here.

Police indicated they may have been tourists from Ontario. The decomposed body of the woman, believed about 60 years old, was found on the river bank and buried here Thursday without an inquest.

Police found three hats scattered along the bank of the river at the scene of the accident.

Police believe the mishap occurred last Friday. The woman's body was spotted Saturday by a passing motorist.

MISSING TURN

Police said the skidmarks indicated the car, travelling north from Revelstoke, failed to make a sharp turn just before a highway bridge over the Goldstream.

The car then apparently plunged over a steep, 100-foot embankment and threw the elderly woman clear before carrying its other passengers into the turbulent river.

Two navy divers called from Esquimalt located the wreck Thursday.

Two attempts to haul the wreck up the rocky river bank have yielded only broken pieces of the wreck.

Police have been unable to tell if there are bodies in the car as the river is "boiling and muddy."

NOTED SURGEON DIES

VANCOUVER—Dr. Hervey Lee Jackson, 67, died here Wednesday after a brief illness.

Born and educated in Toronto, he set up general practice in Regina after serving as a lieutenant-colonel in the First World War.

In Regina, he was a president of the Rotary Club, a founder and president of the Wascana Country Club, and a director of the Regina Exhibition Board.

His association with Vancouver's Shaughnessy Veterans' Hospital began in 1945 when he was appointed surgical consultant.

SLIDE WRECKS CANAL

KAMLOOPS—A landslide on the west bank of the North Thompson River left a gaping hole in an irrigation canal and a road about 15 miles north of here Thursday. Gap is 25 feet deep and 200 feet wide.

The irrigation canal brings water from Jamieson Creek to homes and farms in the North Kamloops and Brocklehurst areas.

DOUG CHILDREN AILING

TRAIL—Whooping cough has broken out in the Castlegar area among Dougkhor children.

West Kootenay health officials said about 30 cases have been reported.

IKE'S FRIEND NEW U.K. ENVOY TO WASHINGTON

LONDON (AP)—Britain Thursday named Sir Harold Anthony Caccia—an old friend of President Eisenhower—as ambassador to the United States. He will succeed Sir Roger Makins.

Caccia, who pronounces his name "Cacheh," takes over what is regarded as the top job in Britain's overseas diplomatic service.

A career diplomat since 1929, with a reputation as a brilliant thinker on foreign relations, he is at present deputy undersecretary of state in the Foreign Office.

The 50-year-old diplomat was a member of Eisenhower's staff at supreme headquarters during the Second World War.

So great was the influence of the ancient Olympic games that wars were temporarily stopped for them to take place.

P.O. for M.P.'S

If you have written your local Member lately, your letter found its way to the new aluminum mail box recently installed in the Parliament Buildings, Ottawa. With their attractively bevelled and sanded doors, these lock boxes look handsomely at home in the vaulted corridors of the Centre Block.

Imagination boggles at the tonnage of praise and blame that will flow through these boxes in years to come, to M.P.'s and Senators yet unborn. Meanwhile we find it fitting that a metal that has become such a vital part of the nation's economy should grace the nation's legislative halls.

REPORT FROM THE OUTDOORS

The success of the Solarium derby being assured—because any cause in which the Solarium children benefit, is undoubtedly a success—all now that remains is for the fish to make their contribution in Saanich Inlet Sunday.

That's the date of the annual Anglers-Times Solarium Salmon Derby, as everyone should know by now.

And there are fish in the inlet, it appears, but mostly they are on the small side.

For example, Hall Boathouse reports good results over last weekend, but since then, because few boats have been out, it is virtually impossible to judge the fishing correctly.

At the Anchorage end of the inlet, it's the same story. The fish are small, but apparently plentiful if you can find the right spot. In this regard, Deep Cove has been producing as well as any other spot, with fair catches reported from Coal Bay. Misery Bay is still the key spot at Hall's end.

Doc Clarke, who knows the inlet and its habits as well as anyone, says anything could win the derby Sunday because the outlook—full moon and low tide—isn't conducive to big catches.

And so you have it—with about 40 prizes in the Solarium grab bag, don't be discouraged with a seven pounder. It likely will get you an award, and that puts everyone even at the start.

Meanwhile, French Creek is "streaky" with the fish there one day, and not the next. The best day far occurred recently when 49 boats produced 259 fish.

Dunc Turner of Quilicum says plugs and small spoons are better than bucktails at this time of the season, and cautious upland visitors about being overly optimistic. "It's not that good yet, he commented.

Springs are showing at Cowichan Bay, club president Tom Merrick recently outfitting Hal Denton of CBUT. . . Mrs. A. S. Playt of Bell, California, teed off the Campbell River season with a 57 1/4 pound specimen this week. . . Sam Soong got his limit at Hall's. . . Clive Ball had four springs and cohoes in the inlet. . . Mr. and Mrs. Joyce fished every night last week and weren't skunked once at Goldstream. . . Strip seems the best bet in the inlet with plugs still the favorite at Cowichan Bay.

Ladder derby chairman Jack Clyde advises that ladder fishoff tickets will go on sale Monday at Wilson and Lent's with sale of Duffer's final fishoff tickets to commence a week later.

Barbara Woolson and Ed Hedley scored a major upset in the city tennis championships at the Victoria Lawn Tennis and Badminton Club as they upset second-ranked team of Norma Horner and Carl Brand, 6-3, 6-3, Thursday evening to reach the finals.

In the other mixed doubles contest, Sharon Whittaker and Ted Smythe defeated Clare Kinnis and George MacMinn to join Miss Woolson and Hedley in the finals.

In men's singles, Victoria Club champ Ron Mitchell reached the semifinal with a convincing straight set win over George Bishop.

Tacoma Cheney Studs, e.g. Luther Carr, will be back at Athletic Park again Saturday to take another round-house crack at Victoria's Farmer Construction.

Carr, 19 years old and built like a brick smokehouse, hit two paralyzing home runs last Saturday as the weak-fielding but powerful-hitting Studs swept a Northwest League doubleheader from the Farmers, 7-4, 7-5.

They could well do it again this Saturday. Although committing five errors in the field last week, they blasted Victoria hurlers for 19 hits, nine of them extra-base blows.

These of course were topped by Carr's two ninth-inning home runs, wiping out 4-2 and 5-3 Victoria leads, respectively.

The Tacoma squad is hitting at a breathtaking team average of .275.

To combat the big bats of the visitors, harassed Farmer manager Ed Ash will send to the mound Paul Beck in the opener and either Don Donahue or veteran Bill Prior in the nightcap.

Prior cut a finger on his pitching hand this week, and may not be ready to play. However, manager Ash hopes he will be available Sunday for the split doubleheader against Deming and Bellingham on the mainland.

Bill Garner will be used in relief against the Tacoma sluggers Saturday, and will start one game Sunday.

Saturday's starting times are 2:30 and 7:30.

BALTIMORE (AP) — Fred Valentine, rated a hot outfield prospect by coaches of Baltimore Orioles, was signed Thursday to a $4,000 contract with Vancouver Mounties of the Pacific Coast League.

MARKET SUMMARIES

West Oils Rebound In Toronto Trading

TORONTO (CP)—The stock market in mid-afternoon dealings today began inching ahead.

Papers, utilities, foods, financial institutions and manufacturers supplied some strength for industrials to move ahead more than half a point on their index. Western oils, which dropped to Thursday's close after a gain of a point earlier, bounced back up. Base metals also regained some lost ground but was still lower.

Ford A added 2 1/2 points among industrials. Price Bros. lost 2 1/2 points and Trans Mountain 2 1/2 points.

Hudson Bay lost a point among senior base metals but Falconbridge was ahead a point. Ventures gained 1/2.

General Pete added 50 cents in western oils. Canadian Atlantic was up 20 cents; Central Leduc and Dome Explorers 15 cents; and Del Rio, Consolidated Mic Mac and North Canadian 10 cents.

NEW YORK

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market improved earlier gains in late afternoon trading as aluminum and copper continued to lead an advance.

MONTREAL

Price Support on Butter Costs Ottawa $5.4 Million

OTTAWA (CP)—Federal price supports on butter manufactured in 1954 cost $5,422,152, the agricultural prices support board reported Thursday in its 1955-56 annual report tabled in the Commons.

The board held 50,190,509 pounds of 1954 butter at March 31, 1955, and began to offer it for sale the following day. Except for about 9,000,000 pounds sold for export to Iron Curtain countries at prices of 37 to 39 cents a pound, the board sold most of the remainder at 58 cents a pound less a handling charge of about two cents.

The board disposed of 6,700,000 pounds at a rebate of 21 cents a pound to approved Canadian institutions such as hospitals, nursing homes and the like. Known losses on 1954 butter were set at $63,991.

Last year, the board purchased 62,990,606 pounds of 1955 butter at 58 cents a pound. It began offering it for sale at the same price less the handling charge last February.

Big Parade Planned as 'Starter' for Navy Day Festivities on August 15

Over 5,000 naval personnel will take part in Navy Day celebrations to be held at Beacon Hill Park Wednesday, August 15.

All ships of the Pacific fleet will be recalled from training exercises and over 1,000 officers and men will take part in a parade which will start the events at 10 a.m.

One of the biggest attractions, a carefully kept secret operation, will be detailed by the navy Saturday.

But the program of events already made public aims at new peaks of public entertainment and facilities are planned to accommodate crowds totalling 40,000 persons.

First attraction will be an hour-and-a-quarter-long parade, stepping off at 10 a.m. on Belleville Street west of the CPR wharf.

Accompanied by navy bandmen, the marchers will proceed east on Belleville and turn north on Government, passing a saluting base in front of the Empress Hotel. The parade will continue north on Government, turn east on Yates, north on Douglas to Fisgard.

The marching units, interspersed with 30 floats, will proceed east on Fisgard to Blanshard, Blanshard south to Yates, Yates to Douglas and thence to Beacon Hill Park.

Transferred to the navy for a day will be all the waterfront land along Dallas between Cook and Douglas.

Spectators will be treated first of all to a display of precision marching by picked troops including a color squad. One platoon will demonstrate how not to march and there will be costumed units proving the ability (as will also be done with floats) of the navy to laugh at itself.

There will be floats provided by the army and air force, joshing satires on the navy, followed of course, by floats making equal fun of the two "junior" services. It is anticipated the parade route will be decorated by merchants.

A tent city of static displays will open in the park area at noon with official ceremonies at 2:30 p.m. Aside from the displays of naval life, including those of educational facilities, electronics, a museum, a religious marquee, and a giant water-filled tank for use by frogmen, there will be enacted various stunts including a traditional crossing-the-line ceremony when King Neptune and his court will appear.

He will conduct the ritual of initiation afforded each seafarer as he crosses the equator for the first time.

Offshore, but well within sight of the crowd a destroyer and naval aircraft will cavort. Frogmen will attack the destroyer, the ship will go to action stations, there will be a high speed run and firing of guns.

In the evening, all displays will be repeated and at sunset the band will participate in sunset ceremonies. There will be a fireworks display after nightfall and a street dance.

The park area will be installed with a child nursery and diaper-changing station, a children's playground, a rest centre for adults, four "trains" with free rides for kiddies, and free children's movies.

Arrangements have been in the hands of a Navy Day committee headed by Capt. R. F. Welland, DSC, RCN.

Other members include Cmdr. D. L. MacKnight, Cmdr. John Hall, Lieut.-Cmdr. W. A. Mansfield, Lieut.-Cmdr. Roy Silvester, Lieut.-Cmdr. Fred Palmer, Lieut.-Cmdr. Bev Gillespie, Lieut. E. A. MacFayden, Lieut. P. L. Shirley.

Civilian members are parks administrator W. H. Warren, GVCA chairman Ald. Geoffrey I. Edgewood, Victoria police chief John Blackstock, H. L. Crombie, chamber of commerce secretary and Captain R. Newell, Victoria harbor-master.

A $35 fine and licence suspension was ordered in city police court today for William G. Staples, 1242 Fort, when he pleaded guilty to careless driving.

Staples was involved in a collision with another car at Fisgard and Blanshard, June 25.

"I never saw the other car until there was a flash of light in front of me," Staples told police.

Minister of Education Ray Wiliston will address some 125 B.C. high school principals and inspectors, who close a three-day conference here this weekend, at an informal dinner at the Pacific Club, Saturday at 7 p.m. He will discuss a recent trip to Amsterdam.

"Olympic Host," a color film previewing yachting conditions at Melbourne, Australia, will be shown to members of the Royal Victoria Yacht Club, tonight at 8. The 65-minute film was compiled by the Olympic Games Committee.

About 20 members of 4 Light Anti-Aircraft Battery Army Cadets Junior corps will spend the weekend at Qualicum engaged in shooting, fieldcrafts and swimming as part of their summer training program.

Sunday they will parade to the war memorial cenotaph at Qualicum Beach where they will lay a wreath. Commanding officer of 5 Harbor Defence Battery, Maj. Douglas Nelson, will take the salute.

$75,000 More Work Planned On Dallas Road

The BC Cabinet today approved a grant of $75,000 to the city of Victoria for beautification of the Dallas road waterfront.

The action followed a Capital Improvement District Commission meeting Thursday which rejected a city council recommendation that the initial CIDC grant be spent to beautify and widen Douglas street in the vicinity of Beacon Hill Park.

Instead the committee of government and civic appointees recommended the grant be spent in this manner: $10,000 for steps to the beach at Marlborough street, $4,000 for beach steps at Moss street, a paved path along the waterfront bluff paralleling Dallas, $10,000, improvements to Clover Point including removal of a small hill, placing of wiring underground, removal of gun emplacement and other installations of the federal defence department, $25,800.

A balance of about $20,000 is to be expended on further Dallas road landscaping from Cook street west along Dallas.

The commission felt work started in this area under the old Capital City Grant Committee should be completed before other projects are undertaken.

A motorist who told police "I guess I must have been day-dreaming" before colliding with another car at Douglas and Pandora, was fined $35 in city police court today for careless driving.

William Bamford, 1515 Chapman, pleaded guilty. Magistrate Henry Hall also ordered his licence suspended. Damage to the two cars in the July 12 collision amounted to $600.

Victoria district health officials are keeping a careful eye open for poliomyelitis. Late July and early August has proved the most active period for the disease in the past. However, due possibly to the cycles in which the disease appears to operate, and the fact that Salk vaccine protection has been given the age groups most generally affected, incidence has been low this year. Four cases, all adults, have been reported this year from Saanich; none in Victoria-Esquimalt or Oak Bay health districts.

Investigation continued today into an early-morning break-in and theft Thursday at Two Jacks cigar store, 1315 Government.

Police said $80 was taken from a cash drawer. A rear window was open, they said, but it was doubtful that entry was made that way.

A link with Victoria will be forged at the 25th sourdough reunion to be held in Portland, Ore., August 16-19.

Past international president of the group of old-timers, Tom Tellefsen, Vancouver, walked the trail of '98 and made the Westholme Hotel his group headquarters while here.

Many Canadian sourdoughs are expected to attend the convention.

Samuel Patterson, 1503 Charlton, was fined $25 in Saanich court Thursday for failing to file an income tax information return.

John Claude Wilkie, 23, of Sidney, will stand trial in assize court this fall on a charge of rape.

He was committed by Magistrate Henry Hall Thursday at the conclusion of a preliminary hearing in Saanich court.

Wilkie is accused of raping a 19-year-old Sidney girl near Beaver Lake, July 17.

Fines of $25 for failing to file income tax information returns were imposed in city police court today on Orville Chase, 3116 Steele and John P. Norton, 1521 Edgeware.

"Should every university student take one science?" will be the subject of Dr. A. L. Doucette, visiting lecturer at the Summer School here, who will be guest speaker on the PTA program over CJVI, Sunday at 9:30 a.m. Dr. Doucette is a professor of education at the University of Alberta.

COUNSEL'S STATEMENT:

Sturdy Not Delaying Slander Action Trial

George Gregory, Victoria, MLA and counsel for David Sturdy of Vancouver, today issued a flat denial of rumors that he is delaying the court hearing of the Sommers-Sturdy slander trial.

Mr. Gregory, in a written statement, said the next step in the case is up to Robert Sommers, the former lands and forests minister, who resigned his cabinet post over the issue, after starting the slander action against Sturdy.

Text of Mr. Gregory's statement follows: "I have heard from enough sources to be concerned that a rumor is being spread abroad that I am deliberately delaying the Sturdy-Sommers case, and because nothing could be farther from the truth or more prejudicial to my client's interest, I feel that I should state the position at which matters now stand.

New BCHIS Rule To Be Studied By Doctors

A new regulation by B.C. Hospital Insurance Commission which may reduce free hospital diagnostic services for hospital patients is expected to come under fire at a board meeting of the B.C. Medical Society in Vancouver tonight.

Officials of two city hospitals are also expected to meet to study the effect on patients. One official described the new regulation as "one of the most dramatic changes ever made since the inception of BCHIS."

The new amendment to the BCHIS regulations was received by hospitals here this week.

It provides that no patient in hospital shall be entitled in future to receive any treatment or diagnostic service not connected with the illness or condition which necessitated his admittance to hospital, if such service could normally be rendered to an out-patient. Out-patient services are not free.

30-Acre Girl Guide Camp Proposed for Elk Lake

MARILYN TRIES WHITE CAPS FOR SIZE; RYDER SATISFIED

Marilyn Bell and Gus Ryder switched their scene of operations this morning from the comparatively calm water off Oak Bay to the open sea in front of the Breakwater.

Coach Ryder put Marilyn through a 1½-hour practice swim this morning, starting at the Breakwater and heading out past the Brothie Ledge marker. It was her first venture into open water since she began training in Victoria this week.

During the session, Marilyn encountered white caps and rough water but Ryder was pleased with her strong swimming through the heavy going.

Big Ben Stopped By Fickle Wind

Swimming Chef Beaten 5 Miles Out; New Attempt Early Saturday Morning

Hard-luck Ben Laughren, foiled by a fickle wind in his sixth crack at the Strait of Juan de Fuca this morning, hopes to try again early Saturday morning.

Laughren's trainer, veteran strait man Ove Witt, said: "We're going on 24-hour alert. We hope to take off around 1:30 Saturday morning but we will be watching for a break in the weather and we could go at any time."

"We had tough luck Friday morning on a swim that looked perfect when it started. One of these days we are going to get the breaks coming our way and we'll go all the way."

The break that went against the 270-pound Victoria chef was a sudden shifting of the wind from north to south, forcing Laughren to leave the water four miles from his starting point after three hours and 11 minutes of strong swimming.

BLOWING IN FACE
At 3 a.m. the wind suddenly reversed itself and instead of blowing at Laughren's back it turned into his face and raised a sloppy chop that made it impractical to continue.

Laughren was taken out of the water so that he would not expend his strength with the possibility of another attempt close at hand.

The swim started under near perfect conditions.

Greased with vaseline, the wise-cracking Laughren waved a cheery goodbye to a cluster of spectators and dove off the end of the Breakwater at 12:29.

Swimming a strong crawl, he

JUAN DE FUCA TEMPERATURE
At Race Rocks today

(Authority, Dept. of Transport)

passed the Brothie Ledge marker at 1 a.m. and was forced to swim through a thick tangle of kelp.

PERFECT NIGHT
The water was comparatively flat, the slight breeze was from the north and the night was crystal clear.

The plan of navigator Stan Page was for Laughren to start at high slack and to swim through slack water, reaching Constance Bank no later than 3:30, at which time he would hit a 6½-hour ebb tide calculated to sweep him in to Ediz Hook.

The calculations were dead on. Laughren hitting the fringe of the Bank at 3:15.

However, the calculations were knocked askew when the wind changed, raising white caps and making it difficult for Witt, in a small coaching boat, to keep contact with Laughren.

Laughren, who was halted in an earlier bid by a cramped arm after eight hours and by another unexpected wind after six hours of an earlier swim, was in excellent shape when he came out of the water and showed absolutely no ill effects from his three-hour immersion.

West Shore Property Option Taken By Group

A permanent camp for Girl Guides and Brownies is planned on the western shores of Elk Lake.

Option has been taken on 30 acres of wooded property of the Rainsford farm, and leading groups of the Girl Guide movement on Saanich peninsula are actively engaged in organizing a fund-raising campaign with a view to the purchase of the site.

Ideal for the purpose intended, the lakeside property offers 1,000 feet of beach for swimming.

A meeting of regional Girl Guide organizers will be held later this month to consider ways and means of financing the venture, according to James T. McKevitt of Brentwood Bay, prominently identified with youth recreational activities in the district.

The provisional committee appointed to take charge of the fund-raising campaign is composed of J. T. McKevitt and C. L. Dickens, Brentwood; Kenneth Cronk, Cordova Bay; Mrs. N. H. C. Fraser, Deep Cove; and Mrs. J. Nimmo, Saanichton.

Girl Guide groups on the peninsula at present interested in the outdoor camp project include Brentwood, Sidney, Deep Cove, Saanichton, Prospect Lake, Marigold, Tillicum and Cordova Bay.

Decision to organize a separate camp for Saanich peninsula groups was influenced by seasonal overcrowding at the Milnes Landing camp maintained by the Victoria Girl Guide movement. This camp has been attended in past years by Saanich guides and brownies.

It is now intended to make the proposed Elk Lake camp the headquarters for the whole of the Saanich peninsula.

Suitable buildings will be erected on the site for the summer accommodation of the guide groups.

Cost of the Elk Lake property is $7,000, with a minimum down payment to bind the deal. "This is a laudable project which could interest service club sponsorship," Mr. McKevitt said.

Central and Beacon Hill Parks will remain open throughout the season.

Playgrounds director Gordon Hartley reported a drop in attendance this week due to the high temperatures.

"Children are just not energetic on days like Thursday," he said.

Attendance was up at Central and Beacon Hill Parks, where children flocked to the wading pools.

We fashion writers are slowing up! Writing stories till 2 a.m. and up again at 7 a.m. isn't conducive to bright eyes first thing in the morning.

It is all so new and interesting that I hate to miss a thing. Some of the editors miss a few shows which they feel aren't of too much interest and then write their stories during the day, but I feel I should see every single thing, as I might miss something very new!

We remained in the 7th Avenue garment district all morning and saw three shows in the showrooms of Anthony Blotta, Ben Reig, and Maurice Rentner.

I was not at all familiar with the designs of Anthony Blotta, but found some of his ideas quite refreshing. He uses the name "Wrap Rascal" to describe a dashing blend of cape and coat, cut full but smooth, with a tailored shoulder line, below which are flat cape panels instead of sleeves.

"Royal Flush" is an opulent black coat that, opened, reveals a Royal Flush in Hearts imprinted in natural size on an inside pocket.

Ben Reig showed one of the most expensive collections of Press Week. The air-conditioned salon in itself was a delight. The clothes were modelled to full advantage against Dove grey walls with intricately-carved panels and wall scones.

Here again we saw broadtail used for restaurant suits and cocktail dresses—very expensive and very elegant. For the first time were shown late-day dresses of Italian silk with swinging overskirts of Italian fringe.

The bustline necklace was used on sleek wool afternoon dresses. The necklace follows the high Empire line and often has a fob-like drop ornament at one side.

After lunch in the Carnival Room at the Sherry-Netherland Hotel, we returned to our headquarters, the Pierre ballroom. Here we viewed the suits and coats bearing the well-known label "Davidow." These are costumes very similar to many of our own suits and coats—British Linton tweeds, lively-colored Irish tweeds and Glen plaid.

The Anne Fogarty label is one which we often see in our shops but I must say her styling has changed this season.

18-INCH WAIST

To me, Anne Fogarty has always typified the fitted basque bodice and billowing skirt with several crinolines. This styling was still quite apparent but about one-half the garments were sheaths. Mrs. Fogarty highlights her collection with the "Columnette Sheath," an eased slimmess with line, color and texture that seem to wrap the torso. Mrs. Fogarty herself is very petite with an 18-inch waist—yes, I asked her!

The word had been going around all day that Oleg Cassini was really in fine fettle and would put on quite a show. Advised that he was quite a showman, I sat close to the runway and I nearly jumped out of my seat when, with a great blast of trumpets, he burst through the curtains and danced down to the end of the platform.

He is 43 years old, handsome, tall, lean and of Russian birth. He was married to Gene Tierney and his brother Cholly Knickerbocker is a noted columnist. Cassini claims that this, his 21st collection, must be his best collection because in creating it he suffered more than ever before.

The only free night on our schedule, I went with friends to "Ciro's" for dinner and then to a most interesting spot called "Serendipity 3." This is a "café expresso" where they make about 40 types of coffee and sell nothing but that and a sweet.

We then went to "Bon Sol" in Greenwich Village and saw an excellent floor show. I am now beginning to understand the nervous energy of so many New Yorkers.

Everyone Will Be Eating Salads During Hot Weather

By PENNY SAVER

A long, cold drink, a leafy, chilled salad and some fresh fruit—what could be nicer on such a hot day? Nourishing and refreshing, a light lunch such as this is standard summer fare in most homes. A basic vegetable for most salads in crisp lettuce, selling in town at nine cents a head, or two larger heads for a quarter. Green onions are another must, and they're 13 cents for two bunches. At the same price are bright, nippy radishes, while celery is 25 cents a stalk. Endives are 15 cents, and cucumbers are a dime.

Nearly everyone has a favorite salad dressing that is whipped up with a flourish when salad time comes round. Whether it's an oil and vinegar concoction or a more elaborate dressing you crave, there are ready-mixed dressings that need only to be shaken and poured into the salad. Garlic dressing, costing 59 cents, has many other uses aside from salads, for this liquid can be brushed on chops, steaks, roasts, and onto stew meat, giving an interesting flavor to the meat.

Caesar dressing, meant, of course, to go in Caesar salad, costs 69 cents. A dressing called "Bucaneer" is good on turkey, chicken, cold meats, in sandwiches or over hot vegetables. A bottle costs 65 cents. Bleu cheese dressing is yours at 65 cents, and coleslaw sauce, that can also be used on fish, is a dime and costs 45 cents.

For a salad of lettuce, radishes, cucumbers and tomatoes, use a Russian dressing that has a tomato content in the sauce itself. A bottle of this rich sauce is 65 cents. An all-purpose dressing with Sauterne wine in it comes in a 59-cent bottle with two salad recipes on the side.

For those of you on low-calorie diets, there's an egg yolk dressing that is sugar and starch free and sweetened with saccharine. A regular-sized bottle is 75 cents.

A French dressing made with garlic and wine vinegar is another favorite, and costs 59 cents per bottle. For desserts, either fresh fruit as is or fruit salad is cooling and delicious. Loganberries are two boxes for 39 cents, and raspberries are either two boxes for 49 cents or 25 cents a box. Peaches are four for 25 and 27 cents, depending on the size. Sweet nectarines are two for a quarter, and the jumbo ones are two for 39 cents. Locally grown cherries are 25 cents a pound; local hings, 32 cents a pound, and sweet Royal Anne's, 25 cents. Cooking cherries are 25 cents a pound.

85 Years Ago Today B.C. Joined Canada

British Columbia became a province 85 years ago today.

On July 20, 1871, B.C.'s status as a Crown colony was dropped and the province linked with Ottawa rather than London, England.

There was little celebration in Victoria. A tar barrel was burned, fireworks set off, British ships off Esquimalt flew bunting and a 21-gun salute was fired.

WHY GROW OLD?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Here, Ladies, Are Helpful Motoring Hints for You

Considering the fact that women spend so much time in their cars I am giving you a few suggestions for the feminine motorist. I already have talked about posture while driving and described the unattractive aftermath of poor posture during the hours you are in your car.

1. If you drive a great deal in the summertime you may soon find yourself with one arm which is several shades darker than the other. Long sleeves in hot weather are not feasible. You could have a separate sleeve (just from wrist to elbow) to slip on when you drive. If you do not want to bother with this you can use suntan make-up on your inside arm when you dress for special occasions.

2. Even in a car your face may become wind-burned or may be dried out by hot dusty gusts and the heat from the road. Why not use a base?

You can get one for dry skins. 3. Your lips also may become dry or chapped. Be sure that your lipstick is not too dry. Apply one of the colorless pomades on long trips.

4. Remember that loose hair blowing in your face is dangerous. Let me also call your attention to the fact that flowing sleeves are not practical for efficient driving.

5. Usually we feel the most fatigue through the neck and shoulders, after a long motor trip. When you reach your destination lie flat on your back on the floor. This is more restful than on a bed. Stretch your neck slowly against the floor, making it as long as possible.

Rest in this position for a while. Turn onto your abdomen and place a hot water bottle or a heating pad on your shoulders and the back of your neck. 6. Hurry and fatigue lead to accidents. Surveys have shown that emotional factors are a major cause of traffic accidents. Do not drive when emotionally upset or when extremely tired.
